HODGSON EXPLAINS WORDS

NEWSPAPER WAS TRADUCING BRAVE MEN.

Washington, Oct. 8.—Commander Richard Wainwright testified before the Schley court today that the chart showing the positions of the Brooklyn and the Texas in the Santiago battle was incorrect. He said that he was never satisfied with it. It was a compromise of the opinions of the navigating officers of the vessels of the American fleet, he said.

CAPTAIN FOLGER RECALLED.

The proceedings of the day began by the recall of Capt. W. M. Folger for the purpose of correcting his testimony of yesterday. Advantage was taken of his presence to ask him further questions concerning the blockade of Santiago.

Among other questions he was asked by Captain Lemly if he had had any conversation with Commodore Schley during the blockade.

The witness said toward the evening of one of the days, the 30th, there was a prolonged and severe rain storm, so severe he feared Cervera had gotten out, as it was sufficiently to have permitted it. Next day he went aboard Admiral Schley's flagship to tell him what he had seen of the blockade kept by the Japanese at Wei-Wei. He suggested adoption of Japanese tactics of forming a circle directly in front of the harbor. The witness said he could not testify exactly as to Admiral Schley's reply, but in substance he did not agree with the necessity of it. The witness maintained his belief as to the state of the weather, notwithstanding its disagreement with the log of the New Orleans for that date.

THE BROOKLYN'S STEAMING.

Captain Folger was then excused and Lieutenant Dyson was called. He was questioned by Captain Lemly concerning the steaming condition of the Brooklyn the day of the naval battle.

He described the Brooklyn's equipment of engines and said that on the morning of the 3rd of July both forward engines were uncoupled and fires were banked under three of the five main boilers. It took some time to get the fires started under the "dead" boilers. The witness detailed from the log of the Brooklyn all that was done to get up steam. He said that the Oregon had got up speed equal to the Brooklyn. He called attention to the fact that the New York had made sixteen or seventeen knots speed on the day of the battle. In response to questions from Captain Parker he said that the New York had not her engines coupled on the day of the battle and that the Brooklyn had made all the speed necessary.

HODGSON EXPLAINS.

Lieutenant Dyson was excused and Lieutenant Commander Hodgson, navigating officer of the Brooklyn, was recalled to correct errors in his testimony as printed in the official record. He said he desired to alter his reply to the question yesterday as to why he had designated as a "liar and a blackguard" the editor of a newspaper which had originally printed the alleged colloquy between himself and Commodore Schley. He was sorry, he said, that he so far forgot himself as to write such an intemperate letter. He did not accuse the paper of lying for printing that statement, but because it had represented Commodore Schley as displaying trepidation and cowardice in the battle and taking the Brooklyn and running away from the fight, and because it had wished to detract from the credit of Commodore Schley for his part in that battle, and because the paper sought also to detract from the credit of all the officers of the Brooklyn who took part in the battle.

COMMANDER WAINWRIGHT.

Commander Wainwright, who commanded the converted yacht Gloucester in the battle of Santiago and who fearlessly attacked and helped to destroy the Spanish torpedo boats Pluton and Furor, was called. The witness said he had been a member and latterly senior member of the board which had officially acted in making the chart showing the positions of the American and Spanish ships at Santiago. The witness told how conclusions were reached by that board.

Commander Wainwright admitted that the chart was incorrect, that it had been made by getting the opinion of each navigator concerning the position of his ship at different times, and that the final decision of the board was to get these opinions reconciled as near as possible. He said in response to a question by Mr. Raynor that he did not consider the places assigned to the Brooklyn and the Texas while the former was making her famous loop as correct. "For myself," he said, "I was never satisfied with the positions assigned." He said that while the board had done the best it could at the time, it had not satisfied any member, and it was all they could do to get them to sign the report. The witness said he did not see the Brooklyn and the Texas at the commencement of the battle and did not see any orders signaled by the Brooklyn during the battle, but said this did not mean that no orders were given by signal from the Brooklyn. He said he did not see any of the Spanish vessels change her course to the southward as if intending to ram the Brooklyn. Commander Wainwright was then excused and Lieut. M. L. Bristol, former watch and division officer of the Texas, was called. He had only related the arrival of the Texas at Cienfuegos and detailed conditions there when the court took a recess for luncheon.

At the afternoon session of the court Lieutenant Bristol detailed his view of many events around Santiago, especially the blockade and the reconnoisance of the Spanish land batteries, whose weakness he said had been developed. He gave a description of the battle and the chase of the Colon. He said that at the end of the chase the Brooklyn was ahead of the Oregon.

NO EFFORT BEING SPARED

TO SECURE MISS STONE'S RELEASE FROM BANDITS.

Government at Washington Makes an Arrangement for Advancing the Ransom.

Washington, Oct. 8.—Not since the successful attempt to save the life of John Hays Hammond, the American engineer implicated in the Jamison raid, has the state department put forth such energetic efforts to save a human life as it is now exerting in behalf of Miss Stone, the American missionary who was captured by Bulgarian bandits. A sum of money has been forwarded by the agency of the cable to Spencer Eddy, the United States secretary of the legation at Constantinople, who has shown remarkable energy and ability in unearthing the ramifications of the plot which resulted in the kidnaping of Miss Stone.

There is little doubt that the Turkish government has done all that it could be expected to do to run down the bandits, and what is now to be done is to secure similar action on the part of the Bulgarian government and to that end influences more potent with the Slav races than those of the United States government are now at work. Should these measures fail then the ransom money must be paid, and that is why Mr. Eddy has been placed in possession of this powerful auxiliary.

ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance association was held today in the assembly room of the court house, and about fifty stockholders were in attendance at the meeting. The report of the treasurer showed a most satisfactory financial condition. During the year policies to the amount of $491,740 have been written, a net increase of $287,083. The total number of new policies is 289. There have been thirty-five losses, twelve from fires caused by lightning and twenty-three from other causes. The total receipts for the year were $4,225 and the amount paid out for losses was $4,175,66. The election of officers was held this afternoon.

BOARDERS TAKEN SICK.

Seven persons who eat at a boarding house on Lewis street are sick, several of them quite seriously, from something eaten at the table Saturday evening, it is believed. None of them are critical and what caused the illness is not yet determined. Drs. McOscar, English and G. B. Stemen have various of the patients under their care.

Miss Bertha Medsker, of Lewis street, is dangerously ill. Her father, John Medsker, is connected with the S. F. Bowser works.

FAMOUS OLD EIGHTY-EIGHTH

HOLDING REGIMENTAL REUNION IN FORT WAYNE.

MANY VETERANS ARE HERE

UNION CAMPFIRE ON PROGRAM THIS EVENING.

Thirty-nine years ago today—on October 8, 1862—in the terrific conflict at Perryville, Ky., a new regiment of untrained Hoosier volunteers but six weeks away from Camp Allen at Fort Wayne, received its first baptism of battle. That was the Eighty-eighth regiment of Indiana volunteers, and today the gallant survivors of that famous old command are holding their annual reunion in Fort Wayne.

Proudly they marched away from the confines of the camp which occupied the district west of Main street, in what is now known as Nebraska, to aid in defense of the union, and though precipitated almost at once into the heat of conflict, these volunteers left through the remaining years of the civil war a record whose luster only grows brighter as time goes by. Many of those soldiers were Allen county boys; the rest were from the counties adjoining, and Fort Wayne today extends its welcome to a regiment which it may consider its own.

ARE 488 SURVIVORS.

Of the 1,107 men who originally composed the Eighty-eighth regiment there are now a total of 488 surviving, and of these 134 have registered at the reunion headquarters today. This is by all odds the largest attendance of survivors attending a regimental reunion in this part of the state this year. Among those present today are three field and staff officers, ten members of Company A, which came from Waterloo; seven from Company B at Albion; twenty from Company C, Fort Wayne; seventeen from Company D, Allen county; thirteen from Company E, Fort Wayne; twenty-three from Company F, Fort Wayne; six from Company G, Lagrange; fourteen from Company H, DeKalb county; four from Company I, Elkhart, and seventeen from Company K, Columbia City. In addition to this there is a total of nearly one hundred visiting veterans of other commands in the city to participate in the reunion of the Eighty-eighth and Eleventh battery.

OLD FLAGS THERE.

And the old flags are there—the tattered banners carried by the regiment through many of its battles. These are in charge of Sergeant John Jones, of 63 West Butler street. A number of the old regimental and company musicians are also present, among them Al Ruch, of Petoskey, who was the principal musician; Frank Beidler, of Waterloo, fifer, and Zachariah Miller, of Iola, Kas., also a fifer. In addition to these a martial band made up by the sons of Eighty-eighth veterans, has been contributing its stirring music under the direction of Reuben Browand, of this city.

GATHERED TO REGISTER.

During the forenoon reunion headquarters were opened in the court house assembly room and here Capt. A. H. Dougall conducted the register for both veterans of the Eighty-eighth regiment and visiting soldiers, and issued badges and tickets for dinner which was served at the Elektron building by the ladies of the W. R. C. The veterans thronged to headquarters, enjoyed a general handshake all 'round, met old comrades, told stories and renewed the comradeship of thirty-five years ago. There was much good-natured jest among the veterans at the silvering locks and time-traced faces, but there was comradeship and love of the heartiest sort, such as perhaps exists nowhere except among veteran soldiers.

AT SAENGERBUND HALL.

Saengerbund hall on West Main street, where the veterans held their meeting this afternoon, was well filled when Col. C. E. Briant mounted the rostrum shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon. Some very pretty effects in the way of decoration were shown about the hall, and in the decorations both the Eighty-eighth regiment and the Eleventh battery were recognized. The singing of the national anthem, "America," by the entime audience, opened the exercises, and Rev. T. A. Patee invoked divine blessing upon the old veterans.

THE MAYOR'S WELCOME.

In welcoming the veterans to Fort Wayne, Mayor Berghoff said:

Ladies and Gentlemen: A few nights ago I had the honor to welcome to this city in this very same place the gallant One Hundred and Twenty-ninth infantry at their reunion and was surprised that the tempest of time had not very much interfered with their youthful looks, but today when I gaze upon this audience the picture is a different one—every feature in front of me shows the veteran, their looks steady and clear—although the blonde and black curls of youth have changed to the honored white—yet in their hearts the youth of patriotism remains as fresh as ever.

I am glad indeed to welcome you. To the Eighty-eighth Indiana, the veterans of Sherman, Hooker, Palmer and Thomas corps, we are indebted for many glorious deeds, while the Eighty-eighth has done more fighting than the average, your record of battles cannot be excelled. From the time you received your baptism of powder at the battle of Perryville until the final stroke

MEET IN REUNION

VETERANS OF ELEVENTH INDIANA BATTERY HERE.

TIME THINNING THE RANKS

BUT SPIRIT OF COMRADESHIP IS YET WARM.

NEXT MEETING AT HOAGLAND

OFFICERS ELECTED AT SESSIONS AT CITY HALL.

Survivors of the gallant old Eleventh Indiana battery gathered in Fort Wayne today for their eighteenth annual reunion, to meet old comrades, recall once more the experiences of war time and renew the bonds of comradeship formed during the arduous service in the civil war. The business sessions were held in the city council chamber, and the meeting was of unusual interest. The splendid record of this battery is enshrined among the brightest achievements of union soldiery.

The association was organized in this city eighteen years ago, and held its first reunion at the old fair grounds, which are now included in Swinney park, and it has held these meetings yearly since that date. For the past year the officers have been: Lieut. John Otto, president; Lieut. H. M. Williams, vice president; W. M. Glenn, secretary, and H. C. Zollinger treasurer. Lieutenant Otto presided at the meeting today, and for the coming year officers were elected as follows:

NEW OFFICERS CHOSEN.

President—Lieut. John Otto, Auburn.

Vice President—Lieut. H. M. Williams, Fort Wayne.

Secretary—William H. Glenn, Fort Wayne.

Treasurer—H. C. Zollinger, Fort Wayne.

Trustee—Samuel S. Kelker, Fort Wayne.

Executive Committee—John McIntosh, J. J. Conklin, H. C. Zollinger, S. S. Kelker, John Koons, William M. Glenn.

It was decided to hold the next annual reunion at Hoagland in September, 1902.

In calling the reunion to order this morning Lieutenant Otto expressed his gratification at again being able to look into the faces of so many old comrades. "None are closer to my heart," said he, "than my old fellow-members of the Eleventh Indiana battery. It is a glorious thing to have helped sustain the government under which we live. It should inspire us all to the highest plane of living. Time is rolling on and we must be ready for the change soon to come—for the promotion into the army of eternity, and I hope we shall all participate in that grand reunion over there." Lieutenant Otto noted with pleasure that so far as is known death had not invaded the ranks of the battery during the past year.

Back of the secretary's desk hung the old flag carried through southern battle-fields by the Eleventh battery. Shot and shell, time and tempest have reduced the starry banner to little more than tatters, and it is carefully preserved by S. S. Kelker, of this city, as the most treasured memento of the organization. The badges of the members today were tied with a small bow of black, the drapery being in honor of the late President McKinley.

WILL PERPETUATE IT.

One of the most important matters transacted at today's session was the adoption of a new constitution which has for its purpose the perpetuation of the Eleventh battery organization. Aside from this feature the new constitution does not differ materially from the old, but it provides that hereafter the sons of the veterans may be admitted to associate membership in a class of their own, but that on the death of the father of the associate member the son becomes a regular member of the battery organization proper.

Many of the veterans today were accompanied by their wives and daughters, and it was evident they enjoyed the opportunity for handshaking and visitation, relating old experiences of comradeship fully as much as the more purely business portions of the reunion. The greater part of the business session was concluded by noon, when the veterans marched to the W. R. C. hall in the Elektron building and enjoyed an abundant dinner served by the ladies of the Women's Relief corps. A brief business session this afternoon closed the reunion proper, and during the afternoon the veterans have been sight-seeing, visiting and mingling together, many of them attending the session of the Eighty-eighth at Saengerbund hall. This evening both organizations will join in a monster campfire at Saengerbund hall.

THE REGISTRATION.

Members of the Eleventh Indiana battery who registered at the reunion today were as follows:

RECRUITED AT FORT WAYNE.

The Eleventh battery of light artillery, Indiana volunteers, was recruited at Fort Wayne and mustered into the service at Indianapolis December 11, 1861, with Arnold Sutermeister as captain. Soon after its organization the battery proceeded to Louisville and moved with General Buell's army to Nashville, arriving there February 26, 1862. From thence the battery moved with its division to Pittsburg Landing, arriving at the close of the battle of Shiloh and participating in the siege of Corinth which followed. Upon the evacuation of Corinth the battery moved with the main army through northern Mississippi to Tuscumbia, Ala., and thence to Huntsville, where it went into camp in July. The rebel General Bragg having transferred a large part of his army through Alabama and Georgia, reached Chattanooga in advance of General Buell's forces, turned his left and moving up the Sequatchie valley, crossed Tennessee and entered Kentucky.

CHASED GENERAL BRAGG.

General Buell's army fell back to Nashville and then moved in pursuit of the rebel army. The Eleventh battery moved with the main column, and after the pursuit of Bragg had ceased, returned to Nashville, and

THE RACES BEGIN

IDEAL DAY INAUGURATES THE RED RIBBON MEET.

GOOD CROWDS FOR FIRST DAY

MANY LADIES HONOR THE OCCASION.

FIELDS ARE WELL MATCHED

GOOD PROGRAM FOR TOMORROW IS ASSURED.

Unless "Old Sol" proves himself to be a bad actor before sundown this will have been an ideal day for the opening of a race meeting. This morning for an hour or two it looked as though there might be trouble brewing in the clouds and Jupiter Pluvius seemed to be standing just beyond the drawgate waiting for a sign to come on. Later in the forenoon the clouds cleared away and when the bell tapped this afternoon the weather could not have been more delightful had it been made to order.

For an opening day the crowd was a good one—better than the average, and the liberal sprinkling of bright colors in the grand stand betokened the presence of a goodly number of ladies. If it is money that makes the mare go, it is likewise a sure thing that ladies make the races go. Anything is bound to be a success that has the encouragement of the fair ones, and this the management doubtless knew and had in mind when they decided to make the opening day an invitation day for the ladies. Not only the ladies and gentlemen, but the horses, too, were at the track and it can be truthfully said that a more evenly matched field of horses has never been brought to Fort Wayne. They are well matched and are fast as well.

The opening race, the 2:35 trot, presented Queen Exum a warm favorite, but in the pool selling the field speedily backed her down and Prestoria money was in great evidence. In the 2:18 pace Red Patchen and B. E. Johnson were the favorites, as was predicted. The third race, the runners, presented an enigma. Runners are hard to guess at any time and the talent goes badly wrong as often as right when trying to frame up a satisfactory betting list. For today Betty B., Lake View Belle and Apple Jack are touted as the most likely ones and they stand as favorites in the order named. There will be about fifteen starters at least in this race. In the 2:24 trot Eunice is the best thought of on the list.

TOMORROW'S PROGRAM.

For tomorrow another splendid program is offered.

The event of the day will, of course, be the free-for-all pace, which will be a horse race from the very jump and it is said that the horse who beats Harry O. in that race will have to go faster than 2:04, which is considerably better than the track record in a race, although Robert J. some years ago stepped it off in 2:03¾ against time. Edith W., the fastest mare in the world, is the one who is expected to make Harry O. go his best mile of the year. The Bishop, who made Edith W. step her best at Cincinnati last week, is the next one on the list, and between these three the best race ever gone over Fort Wayne ground is expected to be seen tomorrow. Meantime the field must not be sneezed at and among the bunch it will require a very fastidious taste, indeed, that will not find itself satisfied.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

Licenses to wed have been granted to the following:

Joseph L. Contardot and Louisa Oberly.

Eugene R. Schnelker and Rosella M. Neufer.

The many friends of Samuel Chaska, the popular salesman and member of the firm of Charles Falk & Co., will be glad to learn that he is on the road to recovery. Mr. Chaska has been seriously ill with pneumonia since last Tuesday, but his condition is now much improved.

INDIANAPOLIS ELECTION.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 8.—An ideal day has brought out a heavier vote for mayor than was expected. The republican leaders express confidence in the outcome, while on the other hand the partisans of democracy claim that the early vote has broken the record and they anticipate victory. There are five candidates in the field: Charles MaGuire, democrat; Charles A. Bookwalter, republican; Duncan, prohibitionist; Moore, socialist labor, and Mills, socialist.

ITS FIRST BATTLE

at Bentonville the God of wars kept you marching and fighting.

We are glad to see here today so many familiar faces who have in time gone by fought the battles of the Union under the roar of the cannon and the crack of the musket and are today fighting similar battles in the bloodless arena of national politics—and well it is for every true patriot to do so.

We are a nation of peace—a sovereign nation cemented together by the desires of seventy-five millions of patriots whose hearts wish peace. We settle our battles at the ballot box and yet we must be prepared for war. Whenever our honor and integrity is at stake and peace cannot be held without dishonor, humiliation and oppression, the world must recognize the fact that we can fight—are ready to fight and will fight.

When our forefathers laid down their lives upon the battle-field of Bunker Hill they intended this Union to be forever and forever and it shall be. The question how it shall be preserved is plain—it can only be preserved as it was constructed and maintained:

First—By keeping alive the patriotic spirit of the heroes of Bunker Hill, Perryville, Chickamauga, Gettysburg and San Juan Hill.

Second—By the maintenance of a citizens' army, where every citizen born under the flag or who has sworn allegiance to the flag becomes a soldier at the call of him whom the people have chosen as their leader.

THE CITIZEN SOLDIER.

Give us the citizen soldier—whose soul and heart is imbued with the spirit of liberty—and we can resist and defeat any army that may oppose us. It was not until the black cloud of the war of rebellion broke out that we recognized the value of a citizen soldier army—when the country was in danger—and young and old, rich and poor, arose at the call of Lincoln and offered their service and their lives to preserve the Union; when these citizens came in columns of thousands—yea, hundreds of thousands—from the hilltops and out of the valleys—the world stood amazed. When every city and hamlet became a recruiting station of nations; when all distinction of classes disappeared and everyone stood upon the one level as a patriot—when none were for party and all for the state—it was then we could truthfully say the "spirit of Bunker Hill is still in the hearts of every American and the Union is safe."

And when the great war was over, and "Old Glory" could be seen floating once more over a great united country, the army disbanded—everyone returned to the field, the workshop or his business, the clash of swords and the beating of drums ceased, all heroes became plain citizens again. But the mission of a citizen soldier did not end then nor has it ended yet. While at peace with the outer world, yet there is an enemy within our land more dangerous than an open foe—the spirit of anarchy.

When some few years ago William McKinley, then governor of Ohio, at the dedication of the soldiers' monument at Cuyahoga county said, "With patriotism in our hearts and the flag of our country in our hands, there is no danger of anarchy," little did he think that the bullet of the assassin would some day pierce his body.

KEEP READY FOR ACTION.

Let us therefore be awake to the fact that it is necessary to keep ready for action the citizen soldier at any and all times against the enemies from within and without—ready to protect and defend the Union against all foes—ready to protect every citizen against the enemies of all organized governments—and especially those who cannot distinguish between liberty and anarchy.

It now becomes my pleasant duty as mayor of the city of Fort Wayne, the city of old Camp Allen, to welcome all of you and I want to say that we are not only proud but feel honored to receive such a great body of patriots. I want to welcome with you the ladies that accompany you because I believe that the future of a nation not only lies in the hands of man alone, but also in the safe and tender care of women. I believe in meetings of this kind we should never forget the duty that rests upon the women, especially the mother. It is she who moulds and directs the thoughts of the innocent youth to its final destination; it is she who implants into the heart of the child the first seeds of patriotism and love of country; it is she who directs the innocent thoughts of youth to the ruler of the universe and makes it understand its duty towards his God, and whenever a man understands his duty towards his God he cannot fail to understand his duty towards his country nor the duty towards his wife and family.

I welcome all of you and I hope that this meeting will not only be a meeting of mutual exchange of greetings, but will renew in your hearts the duties you owe to your flag and your country and will leave all future generations to follow your footsteps. If this is done you can rest assured that your meeting has been a success. I want you to feel at home in our city and when you leave it take with you a desire to return.

COL. BRIANT RESPONDS.

The venerable Col. C. E. Briant, of Huntington, whom every veteran knows and loves, responded in behalf of the soldiers, acknowledging in graceful words the welcome of the mayor and assuring the people of Fort Wayne that the pleasure of the occasion was mutual.

Miss Laura Slessman gave a recitation, "Another Year of the Eighty-eighth," which was highly enjoyed, and Capt. J. C. Kensill, one of the best known Fort Wayne veterans, contributed to the program in his inimitable manner.

HEARD REPORTS.

Col. C. B. Oakley was officer of the day and Josiah King acting quartermaster. The adjutant, Capt. A. H. Dougall, presented his reports for the year. Twenty-two veterans of the regiment have died during the past year, as follows:

Field and Staff—Quartermaster Ira Rupert.

Company A—B. F. Kennedy, Jacob Showalter.

Company B—Robert A. Hinman, Joseph W. Nowells, Joseph W. Teal, William Pearson, Cornelius D. Van-Frank.

Company C—John Deal.

Company D—Henry M. Wyatt, Frank Alderman, Isaac Snyder.

Company F—John McBride, Adam Coolman, John R. Dishong.

Company I—George S. Clarke, John Hughes.

Then followed an informal report from each company, made by a comrade, and following this came an eloquent memorial to the dead comrades by Captain F. F. Boltz, of Bluffton. A committee was appointed on time and place of next meeting and a committee on resolutions, each of which is to report at the evening session.

CAMPFIRE TONIGHT.

This evening at Saengerbund hall the Eighty-eighth regiment and the Eleventh battery will unite in a campfire program, to which all are invited. Col. C. E. Briant will preside, with Lieut. John Otto as vice president. The Sons of Veterans quartet will render music for the evening, and Miss Laura Slessman will give two recitations. Lieutenant Governor Gilbert will speak on "Our Younger Veterans of the Spanish War;" Rev. Patee will speak on "The Infantry," taking the place of Gen. L. J. Blair, who is unable to be present; Rev. George Musson, of Ligonier, will speak on "The Cavalry," and Lieutenant Otto on "The Artillery." A. T. Lukens and John C. Kensill and others will contribute to the program.

Calls will be made for Capt. W. A. Kelsey, of Anthony Wayne post; Mrs. Sawtell, of Ladies of the G. A. R.; Judge S. M. Hench, of Sion S. Bass post; Miss Nettie Rice, of L. A. of Sons of Veterans; B. W. Skelton, of General Lawton post; William H. McClelland, of Union Veteran Legion; D. E. Bricker, of Sons of Veterans; Capt. C. E. Reese, of Philippine war; also W. R. WOMAN

HER CARE AND HAPPINESS.

Never did women accept the truth of Mother's Friend more willingly than those thousands who have tried it. The prime object in a medicine for expectant mothers is safeness and virtue, qualifications impossible to find in internal doses made of nasty, injurious and stimulating drugs.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

is a liniment rubbed in with the hands—something to lubricate the internal tissues and muscles. Something gentle, comforting and refreshing; a balm for the nerves, a softener for the cords holding the heavy burden, an invigorator for the muscles, making them elastic, thereby permitting with ease expansion as the fetus grows to be a live baby.

Mother's Friend is the only liniment that will make the usually dreaded issue easy, and leave the child healthy, and the mother with all her grace and symmetry unmarred. Of druggists, $1.00.

Our book "Motherhood" mailed free.

EDITOR KINERK A FUGITIVE.

Wabash, Ind., Oct. 8.—Benjamin Kinerk, formerly editor of the Wabash Daily and Weekly Times, decamped from this city about a month ago, and his present whereabouts is not known. It now develops that he forged the names of his relatives to notes for about $1,000. His brother, John, paid a note of $200 before it became known that Ben was guilty of several other forgeries. Gambling caused his crookedness.

DYSPEPSIA

Dyspepsia is called the "American's Disease," as it is said to attack more residents of this country than any other. Americans live too rapidly—are always too hurried to give proper attention to the selection of food and to take the time to eat it. If you have an especially distressed condition of the stomach after eating, an inability to partake of the lightest meal with perfect freedom from a "crowded feeling" in the stomach immediately afterwards, belching, irritability and a generally disturbed mental condition, you have Dyspepsia.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and Herb Laxative Compound has cured thousands. It is guaranteed to cure you. 50c and $1 bottles. All druggists. PEPSIN SYRUP CO. Monticello, Ills.

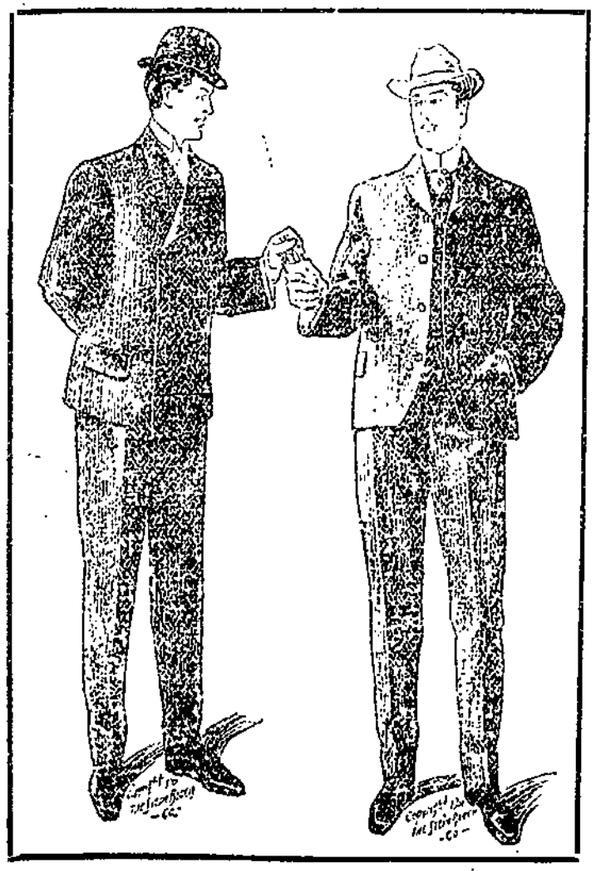
Trial bottle and a very interesting little book on stomach troubles sent free.



The Best Horse

IS the horse to place your money on—if you bet. We say, "DON'T BET." A man who bets is a gambler. Still a great many of our best people think that a man who does not bet is no better (bettor.) When you buy a new suit of clothes, lay your money down in favor of the best suit. A "PATTERSON" suit is a "favorite" against the field in Fort Wayne. A Patterson suit was never known to be in a race for a new home where it did not win out. It has all the "ear marks" of a winner. The graceful curve in the "neck," the well shaped body of the coat, the "hand padding," the "hair" cloth front in the coat, the perfect shaped legs in the trouser, and the cut-out instep, making it fall over the "shoe" without a wrinkle, are things that are sure to make it win, even if the price was not so extremely low. We save you money and give you present and future protection. For present protection we say "MONEY BACK if you are not satisfied." For future protection we say "suits kept in repair for one year." See our $15.00 suits with hand work.

REUBEN S. PATTERSON

Red Ribbon Week

"I saw by night, and behold a man riding upon a red horse."

Perfect safety in buying a "Patterson" suit. "An horse is a vain thing for safety."

The cheapest a good article can be sold, is our highest price.

We first see how good a thing we can buy, and then how cheap we can sell it.

TWO VALUES.

THERE are two values to every purchase—what it costs and what it pays you. Cork costs 8 cents a pound, but if you are drowning half a mile from shore, its value would be "not what you pay for cork, but what cork saves you." When a woman buys soaps she often confuses the two values. She sees only what she pays. She overlooks what she receives. Now a single cake of Ivory Soap pays back from ten to twenty times its cost in the saving it effects. Test it yourself! Vegetable Oil Soap. Ivory white. It floats!

GAME WARDENS FIGHT FARMERS.

Logansport, Ind., Oct. 8.—Deputy Fish and Game Warden Wallace Smith and two men who had been sworn in to assist him were peppered with shot, and one country lad was seriously injured Sunday night in a lively running fight between the officers of the law and a number of farmer fishermen. A crusade against violators of the law has been actively in progress since the new statute went into effect. The farmers were found in the middle of the Wabash river spearing fish, but when commanded to come ashore by Smith put out their lights and got safely away in the darkness. Smith found several spears and some seines, which were loaded into the buggy, and a start for Logansport was made. The officers had not gone far before a shot rang out and Smith got a load of bird shot in his legs. The farmers were in ambush and began a second fire. Both horses were shot and all three deputies were painfully hurt. Smith emptied his revolver, shooting one of the farmers, who was carried away by his fellows. His identity has not yet been discovered. There is likely to be more violence, as residents of the neighborhood declare they will resist the law. Smith says the regulations will be enforced at any cost.

ABANDONED IT.

For the Old-Fashioned Coffee Was Killing.

"I always drank coffee with the rest of the family, for it seemed as if there was nothing for breakfast if we did not have it on the table.

"I had been troubled some time with my heart, which did not feel right. This trouble grew worse steadily.

"Sometimes it would beat fast and at other times very slowly, so that I would hardly be able to do work for an hour or two after breakfast, and if I walked up a hill, it gave me a severe pain.

"I had no idea of what the trouble was until a friend suggested that perhaps it might be caused by coffee drinking. I tried leaving off the coffee and began drinking Postum Cereal Food Coffee. The change came quickly. I am now glad to say that I am entirely well of the heart trouble and attribute the cure to leaving off coffee and the use of Postum Cereal Food Coffee.

"A number of my friends have abandoned the old-fashioned coffee and have taken up with Postum, which they are using steadily. There are some people that make Postum very weak and tasteless, but if it is boiled long enough, according to directions, it is a very delicious beverage. We have never used any of the old-fashioned coffee since it was first started in our house." Mrs. L. A. Smith, Blodgett Mills, Cortland Co., N. Y.

Boiled down Expert MacHarg's report says the South Wayne sewer will be all right if it is properly constructed.

It may be that if Cervera had come out of Santiago at some other time he would have escaped; but the fact remains that when he actually did come out he lost everything but his balbriggans.

The citizens of Indianapolis are voting today for city officers and a host of friends of diverse political connections here in Fort Wayne are hoping Charlie Bookwalter will pull through. There is no politics in their good wishes for the success of one of the best fellows on earth and the triumph of an able and clean man.

If Cervera had carted his fleet overland from Santiago to the north coast of Cuba Admiral Schley would have had something else to answer for. But Cervera didn't. He came out where the American fleet lay and Admiral Schley did what was expected. The expert can look back three years and contemplate many possible and awful contingencies that did not turn out.

It is the barest humanity to settle with the Macedonian brigands and secure the release of Miss Stone. It is a big price and outrageous blackmail, but the missionary's life ought not to be imperilled by refusal to pay the ransom demanded. After she is out of danger there should be the kind of settlement such a case demands. This country is a trifle too big, too dignified and too independent to stand blackmailing by every band of cut-throats that happens to seize persons entitled to the protection of our government. The amount of that ransom should be promptly exacted of the Turkish government and a good rate of interest added, along with a demand for punishment of the brigands.

PROMPT ACTION EXPECTED.

The city council will doubtless have before it tonight the report of the committee on franchises dealing with the contract entered into by the board of works with the Fort Wayne and Southwestern interurban line.

Unless the committee's investigations have disclosed better reasons than are now known to the public for withholding approval of the franchise the people of this city will expect the council to ratify the contract. The Southwestern company has built its line to the city and is waiting to come in. Every proposed route for entrance to the business district where the road must come has been effectually objected to. The Harrison street route is the best yet proposed, both for the city and the interurban line. It is a route that will admit to the most desirable part of the city other interurban lines that may be built. There is, as a matter of fact, less objection made to it than has been offered in the case of any other line proposed. No route can be proposed that will not arouse objection. But the line must come down town and minor and private interests along some route must be subordinated to the general interests of the city and its people.

It is time to settle this vexed and much-prolonged controversy. The merchants and manufacturers—in short, business interests generally, as well as a vast majority of the people believe the council should without delay give this enterprise the means of getting down town.

Edward Sherbundy has returned home to Peru after a brief visit in the city.

Itching Scalp.

Scald Head and the most Violent Forms of Eczema and Salt Rheum Promptly and Thoroughly Cured by Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment.

Among small children, scald head and similar itching skin diseases are most prevalent, and the worst feature is that these ailments, which are apparently trivial at first almost invariably develop into chronic eczema if neglected.

There is but one treatment that physicians are unanimous in recommending for scald heads and eczema, and that is Dr. Chase's Ointment, the great antiseptic healer. It promptly stops the distressing itching which accompanies these diseases and positively produces a thorough and complete cure.

Mr. J. H. Grant, 716 Joseph Chapman avenue, Detroit, Mich., writes:

"For three years I have been troubled by an intense itching on my body. So terrible was it at times that I could get no rest night or day. I tried all kinds of ointments and blood purifiers, but could get no relief. Mr. H. A. Nicolai of 379 Division street recommended Dr. Chase's Ointment. A few applications stopped the itching and I have felt nothing since."

Baby Eczema.

Mr. F. S. Rose, of 133 Sixteenth street, Buffalo, N. Y., writes:

"Our baby boy suffered for some time with that wretched eczema, and we were unable to find anything to cure or even relieve his pain. A few applications of Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment stopped the itching and healed the sores, and a bright, natural skin now takes their place."

ABOUT THE COURT HOUSE

Harry Gray, the young lad who forged a check on his employer on Saturday, got quick action on his money yesterday. At police court in the morning he tried to bluff everybody, at the next session of the court, held a few hours later, he confessed his guilt and was bound over to the circuit court, and at 3:30 yesterday afternoon he was taken into court, where he entered a plea of guilty and was given an indeterminate sentence of two to fourteen years, and if nothing happens, by morning he will be on his way to the state reformatory prison.

The jury in the case of the state ex rel Mary Stewart vs. Joseph Horstman in paternity proceedings returned a sealed verdict at 10 o'clock this morning. The verdict of the jury was simply a finding of fact and declared the defendant to be the father of the relatrix's child. A motion was immediately filed asking for a new trial, and pending the arguments and ruling no sentence was pronounced.

During the summer vacation of the circuit court John W. Vordermark made application and was granted letters of administration in the estate of Henry Tilberry, dead many years. The letters were issued by the county clerk and this morning Judge O'Rourke revoked them. It was shown and the court so held, that the will under which the letters were granted, was made in 1854 and that all the beneficiaries had long since become of age; that the trouble now was simply among the heirs to right a title; that the law provided other ways of settling such matters, and that there exists no reason why letters of administration should issue at this late day.

The case of the state ex rel Blanche Travis vs. Charles Shaffer in paternity proceedings, was dismissed in the circuit court at the relatrix's cost, the case having been compromised out of court.

The case of Ulrich Brake vs. Charles Moellering, appealed from the circuit court, was dismissed by Judge O'Rourke.

The county commissioners this morning visited Lakeside to inspect several county culverts.

H. Richard Kuhne has filed his current report as guardian of William G. Franze.

Sophia Webster et al have commenced partition proceedings against George W. Highland et al.

In the superior court today the case of Shively vs. Ridenour was dismissed. The Baltes Supply company was given judgment against Henry Yobst et al. for $1,113.69. Louisa Flynn was given judgment against Henry B. Monning et al. for $119.68.

A PROPOSITION

FROM THE FORT WAYNE TRACTION COMPANY.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Oct. 4, 1901.

Hon. Wm. J. Hosey, Alderman Second Ward, Chairman of Contracts and Franchises Committee of the Common Council, City.

Dear Sir—I herewith hand you a proposition covering several plans by which the Fort Wayne and Southwestern Traction company and other inter-urban companies may use the tracks of the Fort Wayne Traction company within the city limits of Fort Wayne as they now exist or may hereafter be extended.

Plan 1. With the permission of the city we will construct a double track on Broadway, from Creighton avenue to Washington street, and on Main street, from Broadway to Calhoun street, and will then extend the use of this track to the Fort Wayne and Southwestern Traction company upon the following terms: The Fort Wayne and Southwestern Traction company to furnish the cars and the men to operate the same and to pay us a full five-cent fare for all passengers carried, all passengers to receive transfers to and from our various city lines, and we will pay the wages of the Southwestern company's motormen and conductors while operating cars over our lines. If transfers are not given, then the fare is to be three cents instead of five, and the Southwestern company to furnish the cars and the men and to pay the wages of the men while operating over the said lines.

Plan 2. With the permission of the city we will construct a track or tracks from our property on Holman street to Clinton street, and north on Clinton street from Holman to Lewis streets, thence on Clinton street from Holman north to Main street. We will construct a single track (thus constituting a double track between Lewis and Main streets, there being a single track on this portion of the street at present), thence on Clinton street from Main to Columbia, we will construct a double track, one of which may be used as a running track and the other as a sidetrack for the purpose of permitting the interurban cars to wait for passengers and make connections with other lines. We will permit the Fort Wayne and Southwestern company, after it has constructed its lines from Harrison street on Douglas avenue, crossing Calhoun street to Montgomery street, and thence to Clinton street, to make connection at this point with our Clinton street tracks, and to use the same from Montgomery street to the terminus above described, on Clinton street, between Main and Columbia streets, free of charge, except a pro rata share of the track repair account and one-half the cost of any new street paving which may hereafter be ordered by the city; but for every one hundred feet of track of the Fort Wayne Traction company so used by the Fort Wayne and Southwestern company the former company shall have the privilege of using a like distance of the track of the Fort Wayne and Southwestern company under the same terms wherever located within the city limits of Fort Wayne. Under this plan no transfers will be given or accepted. We will further permit the Fort Wayne and Southwestern company to use our poles and guy wires on Clinton street for the purpose of permitting it to string its own trolley and feed wires for the purpose of operating its cars by its own power.

Plan 3. We will make the same proposition in regard to constructing track on Clinton and Holman streets as described in plan 2, and if the Fort Wayne and Southwestern company does not desire to use its own power we will give them the use of the track and furnish power to propel their cars, they to furnish the cars and men to operate same, and we will make an equal division of a five-cent fare or an equal division of six tickets for twenty-five cents. Should any interurban company acquire the right to transport baggage, express, mail matter or freight through the streets of the city, we would accept the following compensation on such business: All matter, except live stock, if carried in combination passenger and baggage cars, a prorata share of the gross revenue from such business, the same to be determined on a mileage basis or distance carried over the lines of the respective companies; for the transportation of freight in freight cars, $4.00 per car from the point where the interurban line comes into the city or is turned over from the interurban lines to the Fort Wayne Traction company, to the regular terminus of the interurban company wherever located; or, if car is delivered at any other point after having first delivered it at the regular terminus, then an additional charge of $2.00 per car may be made.

Any of the above plans, with the exception of plan No. 2, will be applicable to any other interurban company or companies. I desire to direct your attention to the fact that a company called the Fort Wayne and Lima Traction company is proposing to construct an interurban electric line from Lima, O., to this city. They have asked us for and we have submitted to them a proposition under which their cars could come into this city over our Lewis street line. If (as seems probable), this proposition is accepted, the Clinton street plan would accommodate this company in an adequate manner. Should an interurban line approach the city from the north, it would be exactly in line with the Clinton street proposition. I respectfully call your attention to the fact that the Clinton street line would enable interurban companies to land their passengers directly at the opera house and post-office, and practically at the court house, city hall and the market space; also within a few steps of the depots of the Pennsylvania and Wabash Railroad companies.

In explanation of the liberal terms contained in plan 2, or that portion of said plan which relates to the Southwestern company's stringing their own wires and operating their cars with their own power, I have to say that it is the intention of the Fort Wayne Traction company to make the terms so liberal as to make it evident to all concerned, especially the general public, who have been led to believe that the Fort Wayne Traction company has been using obstructive tactics, that such is not the case, but that on the other hand the Fort Wayne Traction company has always been willing to make a fair and equitable arrangement with any interurban company seeking entrance to this city.

Traction company has always been willing to make a fair and equitable arrangement with any interurban company seeking entrance to this city.

This proposition must be accepted if at all within ten days from the date hereof, and is made subject to the approval of the directors of the Fort Wayne Traction company.

Respectfully yours,
A. L. SCOTT,
General Manager.

THE NEWS OF THE POLICE

There was no police court this morning.

Superintendent Gorsline requests The Sentinel to suggest that this being race week, property holders should endeavor to assist the police in preventing robberies. While no suspicious characters have yet been seen in the city to be recognized, they are of a class which usually follow race meetings. A little extra precautions on the part of the householders may save no end of trouble.

The police department was today notified that a couple of horses had been stolen at Bluffton and that the thieves were supposed to be headed this way—maybe to take in the races.

Officers Rohrer and Chevron are taking their vacations this week. The former is visiting friends in Chicago and the latter is skirmishing around in the state of Michigan.

Another bicycle was added to the unclaimed stock at the police station last night. An auction sale will possibly have to be resorted to to close out the supply.

USE PRECAUTION.

Prevention Better Than Cure.

Care should always be taken during the trying months of August and September to keep the system in perfect condition. There is no remedy on the market today that will so thoroughly fortify the entire digestive tract against the deadly germs of dysentery and diarrhea as Peptorene, the Health Tablet, and it should be kept in every home. Peptorene will at once give tone and strength to the digestive juices of the stomach and relieve the constipated condition of the bowels, giving these organs power to ward off the attack of summer complaint. YOURS FOR THE ASKING—A FREE

SATIN SKIN

That most exquisite, dainty, refining, revivifying beautifier: SATIN-SKIN POWDER. Adhesive, invisible, harmless, this impalpable, hygienic complexion powder is only one made that doesn't clog the pores, because of its fluffy ingredients. LADIES, please LISTEN:

It is a fact that previous to the advent of SATIN-SKIN Powder many ladies who knew the daily need of a hygienic facial powder to remove that "shiny look," make a presentable appearance for dress occasions, have done without. They felt fearful of the results attending use of ordinary powders, too many of which are known to contain lead, lime, bismuth and metallic salts. While these lend a temporary brilliancy to the skin, they insidiously deaden, darken and destroy its delicacy beyond repair. It remained for Albert F. Wood, Perfumer, Detroit, Mich., the compounder of SATIN SKIN Cream, universally admitted the most perfect article of its kind, to achieve success in manufacturing a hygienic complexion powder. SATIN-SKIN Powder is recommended by leading chemists and physicians as the only powder they have examined which does not clog the pores. You are now cordially invited to call at our store and obtain a FREE packet of SATIN-SKIN Powder. You will be very welcome, and positively not asked to buy.

In fact, you are requested to compare SATIN-SKIN Powder with any you have or know of. For oily, red, rough, anemic skin, as well as all dress occasions, SATIN-SKIN Powder will be found a refining, beautifying corrective. Gives dainty, alluring freshness and clear beauty to the skin that must be seen to be appreciated.

CAUTION:—Beware of so-called "talcum." It's ground soapstone and foot powder, unfit for facial use.

SATIN-SKIN is a genuine complexion powder. Positively without lime, lead or any injurious ingredient. Use it with confidence and safety, with the assurance it will beautify any complexion and add charms inseparably its own. Notice your complexion improve, recover its youthful delicacy, under magical influence of SATIN-SKIN Powder. FAVORS HARRISON STREET

AS AN ENTRANCE FOR THE INTERURBAN LINES.

Commercial Club's Special Committee Will So Report—Talk of Grade Crossings.

After prolonged discussion and a thorough canvass of the situation the Commercial club's special committee to consider interurban railway matters will report as its unanimous opinion that interurban railroads should be granted independent franchises into the central part of the city, and that Harrison street should be made a common route by which all lines can reach the down-town district. Ten members of the committee were present when the decision was reached Monday evening, and the vote was unanimous.

Four meetings of the committee have been held, and the committee believes it has heard evidence upon every phase of the matter. Reports from other cities were secured, the interurban people presented its arguments for separate and independent entrances, and the propositions of the Fort Wayne Traction company were also gone over thoroughly. The committee will make its report to the club Thursday evening.

In the course of the committee's discussions it developed that the members very largely favor the abolition of grade crossings on Fairfield avenue, Calhoun, Harrison and Lafayette street, either by the construction of tunnels or by the elevation of the railroad tracks. General Manager Nelson, of the Southwestern, said that his company would be glad to enter into an agreement with the Pennsylvania and Wabash companies and the city to construct a subway at the Harrison street crossing if the electric line were permitted to lay its tracks at one side of the tunnel, separated by a partition from the driveway.

CRACKER BAKERY BURNED.

Chicago, Oct. 8.—Fire early today destroyed the McMahon Cracker and Biscuit company's factory at 46-50 Green street, causing a loss of $150,000, did $30,000 damage to Brewer & Hoffman's brewery adjoining and drove guests of several hotels into the street in their night clothes. The flames started in the bakery and within five minutes the whole structure was ablaze. The south wall of the factory toppled over, crushing the roof of a lodging house at 52-54 Green street, from which, just a few minutes before, the twenty-seven lodgers had hurried into the street. Guests of four other small hotels in the immediate vicinity were driven into the street in scant attire. The firemen soon abandoned their efforts to extinguish the flames, fast consuming the cracker plant, and confined their endeavors to preventing the fire from spreading. In this they were successful, as the hotels and small buildings near the factory sustained only nominal damages.

HIS HEAD BLOWN OFF.

Columbia City, Ind., Oct. 8.—Salem Hinkle, fifty years of age, met instant death near Coesse Sunday morning. While handling a shotgun the piece was discharged, literally blowing about one-third of the unfortunate man's head off. The case is believed to have been accidental.

ORGANIZED AN INSTITUTE.

An institute for the training of Sabbath school teachers was organized last evening at Bethany Presbyterian church by a few earnest Sunday school workers, with a membership of twenty-five. Rev. J. C. Breckinridge is the principal and Dr. George B. Stemen is first assistant. The course of study will require two years to complete and thorough instruction in the Bible will be given. The institute will meet every Wednesday night and an invitation to attend is extended all who are interested in Sabbath school work, regardless of denomination.

William Wier, of Albany, brakeman.

Argyle Smith, of Rensselaer, fireman.

The injured:

James Hager, of Albany, bruised; not seriously.

An eastbound freight engine, No. 1861, collided with a light engine, No. 1569, which was crossing from track three to track four, thus causing the wreck. The crash was a terrific one and in an instant all four of the New York Central tracks were completely blocked. The bodies of Fireman Palmerton and Brakeman Wier, of the freight, were recovered in the wreck at 4 o'clock this morning. Both were badly scalded, but their bodies were not mutilated. Shannon was pinioned under the boiler head of his engine and considerable excavating was necessary in order to extricate him. Argye Smith, fireman of the light engine, was was found under the boiler. The only man to escape alive was Engineer Hager, of the light engine, who was hurled through the window of the cab of his engine and across what is known as "the factory ditch."

PRAIRIE FIRE RAGED.

Monday afternoon and most of Monday night a fierce prairie fire raged on the farms of Messrs. Baumgartner and Charles McCulloch, along the Wabash and Fort Wayne and Southwestern tracks. The fire originated in an eighty-acre tract owned by Baumgartner, which had been allowed to grow up with weeds. The flames consumed two stacks of hay, a small field of corn and a number of fences, and soon spread to the McCulloch land and adjoining farms. The soil was ignited and will continue to smoulder until a heavy rain extinguishes it. Farmers in the affected district joined in fighting the flames and prevented them spreading further. The damage will amount to nearly $1,000.

THE BELL, - - 18 Calhoun Street.

The bather sometimes finds the sand soft and yielding to his feet. It does not trouble him and he goes on until presently he sinks to his knees and discovers to his horror that he has to fight for his life in a quicksand.

Disease is much like the quicksand. The first symptoms of stomach trouble do not cause anxiety. But when the body grows weak through lack of nourishment and disease of the stomach breeds disease of heart, lungs, liver or kidneys, the sufferer realizes his danger and seeks for medicinal aid.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It cures diseases of heart, lungs, liver, kidneys, etc., when these diseases have their origin in disease of the stomach and its allied organs.

Thomas A. Swarts, of Substation C, Columbus, Ohio, Box 103, writes: "I was taken with severe headache, then cramps in the stomach, and my food would not digest, then kidney and liver trouble, and my back got weak so I could scarcely get around. At last I had all the complaints at once, and the more I doctored the worse I got until six years passed. I had become so poorly I could only walk in the house by the aid of a chair, and I got so thin I had given up to die. Then a neighbor said, 'Take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and make a new man out of yourself.' The first bottle helped me so I thought I would get another, and after I had taken eight bottles, in about six weeks, I was weighed and found I had gained twenty-seven (27) pounds. I have done more hard work in the past eleven months than I did in two years before, and I am as stout and healthy to-day, I think, as I ever was."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

EXPERT MAKES HIS REPORT

ENGINEER M'HARG'S ADVICE ON SOUTH WAYNE SEWER.

Three-Ring Construction Some Places and Good Sense in All Will Assure Good Sewer.

Engineer MacHarg, of Chicago, who was here last week on invitation of Mayor Berghoff, to inspect the South Wayne sewer and submit such suggestions as he could conclude upon as an expert, made his official report to the city today. The document is quite lengthy and details the condition in which he found the various parts of the work which he visited and inspected, being accompanied on his visits by two members of the board of works and City Engineer Randall. He offers some suggestions, doubtless valuable to the contractors, respecting the best means of retaining the bottom of the foundation in ordinary cases and disposing of the water which naturally is an adjunct to all sewers built in sandy soil. He suggests some change in methods of "back-filling," and makes some recommendations concerning the placing of sheathing. Referring directly to some portions of the work where three-ringed construction should be put in, he says that on the portion now being constructed on Nelson street, where the open cut ranges from thirty to forty feet, for a distance of several hundred feet, he believes three rings should be built. The bottom of the cut is watery and the sand is extremely fine. On this character of bottom the outer ring should be placed as a sort of a foundation for the two-ring sewer proper and should be well filled behind, and the water should be kept away by bailing from a point in front of the invert construction, always. He does not believe that tunneling at that point should be resorted to. Tunneling, at any rate, is simply an expedient and is allowable only on permission of the engineer. He says he believes the contractor himself would prefer to do open cut work there, as the sand is too loose to hold air pressure. On the southern portion of the work he says he found a good bottom and, while recommending three rings at certain points only, as a whole he does not recommend three-ring construction. The latter portion of his report is in the following language:

"The whole secret of keeping a sewer from spreading or crushing in is to have a solid and even pressure of earth all around the sewer, and the inspector should see that this condition obtains during the laying of the brick.

"My conclusion in regard to the question submitted to me is that as a general proposition there is no need to use a third ring of brick in building the South Wayne sewer.

"The use of the third ring in the invert of a six-foot sewer in mushy ground or true quicksand is to make a foundation. It sometimes occurs that the outer ring cannot be laid with good and solid joints—in fact, is not an element of strength in the structure—here the third ring holds the quaking sand so that two good rings may be laid, and it should be used.

"I do not recall that I have seen any ground in Fort Wayne where this was unquestionably necessary, because the worst ground I have seen was brought into bad condition by unskillful handling. I think City Engineer Randall is capable of forming a judgment as to the necessity for using a third ring in the invert, if such ground is encountered, and I would suggest that the third ring be ordered by the board upon his recommendation.

"Respectfully submitted,
"W. S. MacHarg."

EXPLAINED ASSESSMENTS.

The special council committee appointed to investigate the assessments and construction of the intercepting sewer held a rather protracted session at the city hall last night, to which those who had grievances were invited. City Attorney Shambaugh met with the committee and to him was delegated the task of making a general explanation of the work in its entirety and the likewise pleasant duty of meeting all the kicks. The entire committee was present and Councilman Scheid acted as chairman during the evening. The notice of the meeting was frequently published in the daily press and the invitation was made general, yet there were less than a hundred persons in the lobby and of these a large proportion were interested as spectators only, showing that the number of dissatisfied persons is not nearly so large as might have been supposed judging from the row that was imminent several weeks ago. Mr. Shambaugh addressed those present in a general way giving a history of the intercepter from its inception to its completion and relating the circumstances and conditions which made its building a public necessity. In reviewing the assessments he said that the same plan as that used in other and larger cities having a similar improvement was followed. The distribution was made with a view of taxing the persons assessed in proportion to the benefits their several properties are supposed to have received. That mistakes were made, the speaker said, was quite probable, but they were mistakes and errors of judgment and not of intent; that in handling something like 16,000 separate pieces of property it was not unreasonable to suppose that mistakes were made, sometimes owing, as had since developed, to mistakes in the description of the parcels. In some cases the board was obliged to estimate unplatted ground and in other cases an estimate of relative benefits not governed altogether by frontage was made. The board, he said, he believed acted in good faith and conscientiously with a view of making the assessments equitable. If mistakes had been made in frontage the mistakes would be corrected at the comptroller's office after all the assessments had been paid in. Mr. Scheid, Mr. Hosey and others of the committee spoke and said that they had been working hard for several weeks and that they were satisfied that there had been no fraud of any kind practiced and that if there was they would find it before the investigation is completed and would give the public all the information they possessed in due time. In response to a question asking why the list of assessments had not been published it was stated that such a publication would have been impracticable and would have entailed an additional cost of not less than $1,000. It was further stated that the "kickers'" meeting had been duly advertised, once postponed and once a recess had been taken, and yet with all this notice there were not to exceed a total of half a dozen persons present to enter objections to the assessment and they had with one exception been easily and fully satisfied. The committee adjourned without indicating when they would be ready to make a final report.

BOARD OF WORKS.

At the meeting of the board of works yesterday afternoon the assessment rolls for paving Masterson street; for the alley between Wayne and Washington, from Calhoun to Harrison; for grading the alley between Jefferson and Madison streets, from Lafayette to Barr street, were approved and the rolls for the sidewalk on Dearborn street and the paving of Barr street were confirmed. A plat of a tract of land lying between the Nickel Plate and Wayne street in the east end was submitted for approval; an alley sewer was petitioned for in the Ninth ward and a petition for the extension of street car service on South Broadway was received.

No Argument Needed.

Every Sufferer From Catarrh Knows That Salves, Lotions, Washes, Sprays and Douches Do Not Cure.

Powders, lotions, salves, sprays and inhalers cannot really cure Catarrh, because this disease is a blood disease, and local applications, if they acomplish anything at all, simply give transient relief.

The catarrhal poison is in the blood and the mucous membrane of the nose, throat and trachea tries to relieve the system by secreting large quantities of mucous, the discharge sometimes closing up the nostrils, dropping into the throat, causing deafness by the closing the Eustachian tubes, and after a time causing catarrh of stomach or serious throat and lung troubles.

A remedy to really cure catarrh must be an internal remedy which will cleanse the blood from catarrhal poison and remove the fever and congestion from the mucous membrane.

The best and most modern remedies for this purpose are antiseptics scientifically known as Eucalyptol, Guaiacol, Sanguinaria and Hydrastin, and while each of these have been successfully used separately, yet it has been difficult to get them all combined in one palatable, convenient and efficient form.

The manufacturers of the new catarrh cure, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, have succeeded admirably in accomplishing this result. They are large, pleasant tasting lozenges, to be dissolved in the mouth, thus reaching every part of the mucous membrane of the throat and finally the stomach.

Unlike many catarrh remedies, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets contain no cocaine, opiate or any injurious drug whatever and are equally beneficial for little children and adults.

Mr. C. R. Rembrandt, of Rochester, N. Y., says: "I know of few people who have suffered as much as I from catarrh of the head, throat and stomach. I used sprays, inhalers, and powders for months at a time with only slight relief, and had no hope of a cure. I had not the means to make a change of climate, which seemed my only chance of cure.

"Last spring I read an account of some remarkable cures made by Stuart's Catarrh Tablets and promptly bought a fifty cent box from my druggist and obtained such positive benefit from that one package that I continued to use them daily until I now consider myself entirely free from the disgusting annoyance of catarrh; my head is clear, my digestion all I could ask and my hearing, which had begun to fail as a result of the catarrh, has greatly improved until I feel I can hear as well as ever. They are a household necessity in my family."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are sold by druggists at 50 cents for complete treatment and for convenience, safety and prompt results they are undoubtedly the long looked for catarrh cure.

THE MARKETS.

Chicago, Oct. 8.—Trade in the wheat pit opened dull today with December a shade to ¾@1c lower at 69¾@69⅞c on relatively lower cables. Liverpool and Paris both reported an advance, but the local pit had expected much more and as a result of this and under the general bearish statistics of the past week, prices had a downward tendency. The selling was local, and the moderate outside demand failed to steady prices. December began to sag early and at the end of the first hour had touched 69⅛c. Local receipts were 202 cars, 2 of contract grade; Minneapolis and Duluth reported 830 cars, making a total for the three points of 1,041 cars, against 1,533 for last week and 990 a year ago.

December corn opened quiet ⅛c to ⅛c lower at 57¼c to 57c on cables and sold off to 56⅞c. Receipts were 321 cars.

Oats had a small and featureless market, December opening a shade to ⅛c lower at 35⅛c to 35½@35⅝c in sympathy with other grains, and selling to 35⅝c. Receipts were 212 cars.

Provisions were weak and lower on a lower hog market and on continued outside liquidation and an abrence of support. January pork opened 17½c to 27½c lower at $15.05@15.15; January lard 7½c down at $9.00 and sold to $8.97½, and January ribs 10c depressed at $7.90.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Oct. 8.—The contrary movements of prices in the opening dealings reflected the uncertainty and hesitation of speculative sentiment. Dealings were not on a large scale, however. There was some special pressure against United States Steel, Sugar and the New York Tractions. Amalgamated Copper opened up ½, but more than lost it. New York, Chicago and St. Louis, Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie and Iowa Central preferred showed good gains.

The resistance shown by special stocks encouraged the bulls to bid up the market and there were quick advances of from 1 to 2 points with Amalgamated Copper, Brooklyn Transit and Atchison in the lead. By 10:30 the demand had slackened and the bears made a drive against Brooklyn Transit and Sugar, the latter losing 2 points. Other stocks also weakened, but held above first prices.

The specialties bore the brunt of the selling and losses were extended all around. The Tractions as a group suffered more than any other stocks, but Sugar and Amalgamated Copper dropped over 2 points each. Railroad stocks eased off, but none of the leaders was more than a fraction below yesterday's close. Lake Erie and Western fell 2½, New York, Chicago and St. Louis 2, and St. Louis Southwestern preferred 1½, while American Bicycle preferred rose 3½. Bonds were irregular.

THE MONEY MARKET.

New York, Oct. 8.—Money on call nominally at 3 per cent; prime mercantile paper, 4½@5½ per cent; sterling exchange steady with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.85¾@4.85⅞ for demand and at $4.83½ for 30 days; posted rates, $4.84½ and $4.86½; commercial bills, $4.83@4.83½; silver certificates unquoted; bar silver, 57⅞c; Mexican dollars, 45½c.

THE BOND MARKET.

BASE BALL TOMORROW.

At League park tomorrow the All-Americans and Brooklyns will cross bats and Fort Wayne fans will have an opportunity of seeing the stars of the base ball world in a contest. The regular Brooklyn team has been strengthened by the addition of the best players from several other National league clubs, while the All-American team is composed of picked men from the American league teams. Useless and Poisonous

Nature's Aid to Nature in Throwing Off the Waste Matter Which Accumulates in the Intestines.

A Well Nourished Body and Brain are Better to Have Than Genius.

There can be no perfect nourishment without perfect digestion and the most important part is that which takes place in the intestines. After this process has been completed and all the elements of nutrition absorbed into the blood, the remaining mass should be cast out of the body as soon as possible; if not, the blood continues to take up substances from this waste, foul matter which are not only useless but positively poisonous.

Constipation allows this condition to exist, and so long as constipation remains there can be no such thing as perfect nourishment and consequently no such thing as perfect general health.

The liver is the great laboratory of the body, while the kidneys are the strainers of the blood. If the liver is given substances which it cannot convert into nourishing elements it becomes enlarged, inflamed or in some manner diseased; if the kidneys are overtaxed for the same reason their tissues in time become broken down and unfitted for their work.

The direct results of all this—caused originally by constipation—are headache, backache, nervousness, irritability, rheumatism, bloating and inflammation of the bowels, piles, and a score of other disorders.

Alma-Bromo Salt is nature's remedy for constipation—a tonic laxative which thoroughly cleanses the bowels, relieves the kidneys and liver and has a gentle, soothing tonic influence upon the whole nervous system.

Alma-Bromo Salt is a purely natural product evaporated from the water of the Alma-Bromo Spring at Alma, Mich., and consequently contains no irritating, poisonous drugs.

Constructed from large flake quarter-sawed white oak, finished in golden oak. The lines of the top and of the large mirror are exceedingly artistic and attractive, while the trimmings are of the richest quality. RELAYING TRACKS

WABASH PUTS BIG GANG TO WORK TODAY.

CHANGES AT THE PITTSBURG

N. M. LONEY BECOMES FOREMAN OF LATHE FLOOR.

ED LINDEMANN GOES EAST

TAKES POSITION WITH PHILADELPHIA HOUSE.

As stated in The Sentinel last week, track laying is to be pushed with all possible speed by the Wabash. A gang of men commenced at Hanna street this morning to replace the old and light rails with an eighty-pound steel rail, and they will continue relaying both east and west of the city until there is new rail all the way between Andrews and New Haven, the only portion of the track not now having new and heavy rails. By the time this work is completed the Maumee river bridge will be finished and the track layers will then build track east on the Butler connection to meet track layers who will be thus engaged on the Butler end of the line. Mr. Gidley, with a gang of ten men, also commenced building a telegraph line from this city to Butler, along the line of the new road, and this will be ready for operation as soon as the railway is completed. As soon as the new road is ready for service the Wabash will turn the Eel River road over to the Vandalia (or Pennsylvania), the new owners. In fact, arrangements have been made by which that company will assume charge of a portion of the road next Thursday, and in this connection Supt. E. A. Gould has issued the following notice to the public: "That part of the Eel River railroad between Logansport West Side and Chili, Ind., will be turned over to the Vandalia October 10, 1901. After the train service has been completed for the day, on the evening of October 9, all Wabash trains will be discontinued and all trains operated over the line after that date will be operated by the Vandalia."

A DRUGGIST TALKS

About a Great Medicine---Busy Times at Ranke & Nussbaum's Drug Store, 88 Calhoun Street.

"YES, THE SALE IS WONDERFUL"

And the Result So Unusual That We Guarantee Benefit or Money Refunded—Smith's Green Mountain Renovator Is Certainly All It Is Claimed to Be.

A certain member of this firm volunteered lots of information and was very enthusiastic. "This is just the time of year," he said, "when everybody should take a good blood renovator and bracing tonic. I tell you this is just the kind of weather that pulls one down and we know that Smith's Green Mountain Renovator is the best remedy to renovate and cleanse the blood and give tone to the nerves, muscles and tissue. It comes from the Green Mountains of Vermont and is made from the purest and most powerful of roots and herbs known to medical science and which are native to that region." Continuing, he said: "We are sole agent and absolutely guarantee this medicine or money refunded and the remarkable sale we are having only goes to prove its great merit."

FIREMAN KILLED.

The first death resulting from the bursting of a water tube in the cab occurred east of Crestline, on the Fort Wayne road, yesterday. The fireman had an artery in his neck severed and bled to death before assistance could be obtained. The name of the unfortunate man could not be learned here, as he is employed on the eastern division, and a report of the accident was not made to the officials here.

ED LINDEMANN RESIGNS.

Edward J. Lindemann has resigned the office of report clerk at the Pittsburg freight office and left last night for Philadelphia, Pa., where he has accepted a position in a clerical capacity with a firm engaged in the manufacture of underwear. Ed is a good fellow and a fine clerk and he is missed at the freight office. The vacant place, it is understood, has been filled, though the name of the fortunate one will not be made public for a day or two. There is never any lack of applicants for positions of that kind when it is known they are open.

GET A PATENT.

George Harrod and Hiram Norris have received notice that patents have been granted upon the nut lock described in The Sentinel four or five weeks ago and of which they are the inventors and patentees. This nut lock has been in use on the Union Belt railway in Indianapolis for two years and the management and others connected with that road declare it to be the most practicable and serviceable nut lock they ever saw and the only one to survive the severe tests to which nut locks are subjected on a railway. Mr. Harrod goes on the road in a few days to get his invention before railway men and there is every indication that he will meet with success in the sale of rights. Mr. Norris is a resident of Indianapolis.

GRAND RAPIDS EXCURSION.

The annual fall excursion from the north to Fort Wayne and Richmond given by the Grand Rapids and Indiana road takes place today and the two trains required to handle the crowd will arrive here at 7:30 and 7:45. The railway officials expect a big crowd, but at the time The Sentinel representative called at the office today no estimate could be made of the crowd. The races will be a drawing card to the Grand Rapids and Kalamazoo people and hundreds of them are expected to take advantage of the cheap rates this excursion affords to come to Fort Wayne.

HAND BADLY BRUISED.

Orris Redding, a truckman employed in the Pittsburg freight house, had his left hand badly injured by getting it beneath a heavy piece of freight at 8 o'clock this morning. It is believed that none of the bones were broken, but the flesh is terribly bruised. Dr. Stemen was called to attend the unfortunate man.

CHANGE AT PITTSBURG SHOPS.

This morning N. M. Loney, who has been engaged a year or so in special work in the motive power department of the Pittsburg, assumed the foremanship of the lathe department of the machine shop, vice William Madison, who has been sick for a number of weeks and who will soon retire because of failing health. Mr. Loney has had considerable experience in shop work, having served a term there before being called to the motive power department. W. Y. Cherry, who has served as acting foreman since Mr. Madison was taken sick, will return to the lathe.

SKILLED WORKMEN NEEDED.

There is still an insufficient number of skilled workmen in Fort Wayne and every institution employing mechanics is eagerly hiring all that apply for work and still looking for more. Supt. E. A. Barnes, of the electric works, said this morning that he needed a dozen or more men immediately. He wants those who have had experience in running machinery and are good workmen. He can also give employment to a man accustomed to handling small pipes, a plumber, in fact. Mr. Barnes will install the heating apparatus in the new shops, as well as rearrange the pipe system of the old shops and this work will keep a plumber busy several months. The work of equipping the new shop is going forward rapidly. Four car loads out of seventeen to come from the Siemens-Halske works, in Chicago, have arrived and one of them was unloaded this morning. The new crane is a wonderful help in handling the machinery and in assisting otherwise at the new shops. This morning a big wagon load of lumber, which was wanted on the second story of the building, was driven into the main room, a rope was tied about the big pile and the entire load hoisted to the second story in a moment. It would have taken men over an hour to take the lumber upstairs in the usual way.

HOW TO GAIN FLESH

Persons have been known to gain a pound a day by taking an ounce of Scott's emulsion. It is strange, but it often happens.

Somehow the ounce produces the pound; it seems to start the digestive machinery going properly, so that the patient is able to digest and absorb his ordinary food, which he could not do before, and that is the way the gain is made.

A certain amount of flesh is necessary for health; if you have not got it you can get it by taking Scott's Emulsion.

You will find it just as useful in summer as in winter, and if you are thriving upon it don't stop because the weather is warm.

If you have not tried it, send for free sample to agreeable taste will surprise you.

SLIGHT WRECK IN YARDS.

The north track of the Wabash and the south track of the Pennsylvania east of Hanna street were blocked over an hour this morning by a derailed engine tank and a box car. Wabash switch engine 34, Engineer Redmon and Fireman Kohn in the cab, was pushing two cars and hauling one car east and at the crossing of the Pennsylvania the rear car jumped the frog and started up the Pennsylvania tracks. The car pulled the tender with it and both were thrown from the rails. The Wabash wreck crew was called out and soon had the tracks cleared. The only damage to rolling stock was to the engine tender, which had a pair of trucks broken.

The Bass works this morning shipped a 250-horse power water tube boiler to the Cambridge Rolling Mills company, Cambridge, Ohio.

Patrick Maley, of the Wabash boiler shops, resumed work this morning after a trip to Buffalo to see the Pan-American exposition.

Night Foreman W. Fitch, of the Pittsburg freight house, is taking a vacation and this morning, in company with his wife and four children, he left for southern Illinois to visit relatives.

President Joseph Ramsey is giving the Pittsburg extension of the Wabash road personal supervision and much of his time is spent at that city. He expects to be there nearly all of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Pfleiger and daughter, Miss Bertha Pfleiger, of Harrisburg, Pa., left for their home last evening after a pleasant visit with Machinist E. Zorbaugh, of the Pittsburg shops, and his family.

Milton S. Tracey, who arrived in the city last Monday, has taken the place in the draughting department of the Pittsburg recently vacated by O. P. Reese when that gentleman was transferred to the mechanical department.

George Jautz, a coppersmith who recently resigned a position in the Wabash shops, has taken a position in the Pittsburg shops under Foreman Daniel Petgen. Theodore F. Steger is also a new man in that department.

The joint meeting of the ladies' society and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen last evening was all that could be desired in a numerical and social sense. The ladies had arranged a delicious luncheon, which was enjoyed by all.

Capt. H. Stoll and his lieutenant and patrolmen are devoting as much time as possible to the Kirby depot robbery and the prospects of locating the thieves are very good, though there was at first little in the way of a clue to work upon.

The Pennsylvania yesterday instructed the Bass works to build a boiler for the power station at the Pearl street depot in Cincinnati. The Bass company has placed two boilers in that plant that have been in service two or three years.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilson and Miss Stacey Powell, of Findlay, Ohio, were guests of Conductor and Mrs. F. I. Stump over Sunday. Mr. Wilson is the chief clerk to the general freight agent of the Findlay, Fort Wayne and Western road.

Y., and a five-horse power motor to the Laclede Electric Light company, St. Louis, were among the shipments from the electric works this morning.

There were two sections of Nickel Plate train No. 3 last evening, the second section having four coaches loaded with emigrants en route to the northwest. Conductor Fred Deahl had charge of the train, which was taken from Bellevue to Chicago by engine 21. Engineer P. McGushing officiated from Bellevue to this city and was relieved here by Engineer J. A. Arehart.

upon the reorganization of the army under General Rosecrans, was assigned to the Third division, Twenty-first army corps. After the battle of Stone River and the occupation of Murfreesboro, the battery went into camp near that place.

June 24, 1863, the Eleventh battery moved with the main army upon the enemy's position at Tullahoma, which place was abandoned by the confederates, who fell back across the Tennessee river. The battery halted at Cowan's Station. General Sheridan's division, to which it was assigned, was engaged during the months of July and August in guarding the railroad from Decherd, Tenn., to Stevenson, Ala., and sections of the Eleventh battery were stationed at important points along the railroad.

August 16 a general forward movement was made and General Sheridan's division crossed the Tennessee river at Bridgeport upon a bridge of its own construction. Moving by way of Trenton, the division joined its corps near Winston's Gap. From thence the battery moved to Stevens' Gap.

The battle of Chickamauga began September 19 and Sheridan's division moved to support the right of Crittenden's corps at Gordon's Mill. Here a terrific engagement took place, with great loss on both sides, but Sheridan's division held its position and at one time gallantly charged the enemy, recapturing a battery. The following day the fight was renewed with great fury, and the enemy having broken a portion of our line, our army retired to Rossville and then to Chattanooga.

WAS SEVERELY ENGAGED.

The Eleventh battery was severely engaged in this battle, losing heavily in killed and wounded. Arriving at Chattanooga the battery took position in the fortifications and was engaged in the siege of that place. It took part in the battle of Mission Ridge November 25 and remained in Chattanooga during the following winter.

March 5, 1864, a number of members of the battery re-enlisted as veterans at Chattanooga. In May the battery moved with General Sherman's army upon the campaign against Atlanta and took part in the principal engagements and movements that crowned that campaign with success. After the capture of Atlanta the Eleventh battery returned to Chattanooga, where it remained until on November 21, 1864, sixty-five of its members were transferred to the Eighteenth Indiana battery and consolidated with it and the Eleventh battery lost its designation, the new organization being known as the Eighteenth battery.

The consolidated battery remained at Chattanooga until orders were received to proceed to Indianapolis for muster out. June 7, 1865, the Eighteenth battery was mustered out of service at Indianapolis.

COUNCIL TO HEAR REPORT

OF COMMITTEE ON INTERURBAN FRANCHISE.

Widespread interest is manifested in the meeting of the city council tonight, when final action will be taken on the application of the Fort Wayne and Southwestern Traction company for a franchise on Harrison street. The matter will come before the body in the shape of a report from the committee on franchises, to whom it was referred after receiving the approval of the board of public works. The probable disposition of it has been for days the all-absorbing topic of discussion in municipal and business circles, because it will indicate, to a great extent, the attitude of the city toward interurban roads, and mark the climax of a fight of several weeks' duration between the several agencies that have been at work for and against the franchise.

The opinion prevails that with Chicago street eliminated from the franchise, the committee will report favorably upon it and the document will be sent back to the board of public works for revision, if it secures the approval of the council. If Chicago street is not eliminated the majority report will be unfavorable and an effort will be made to get the minority report favoring the franchise through the council. Chicago street seems to have been the bone of contention in the committee meetings. The Pennsylvania company wants half of it for an additional track, and if the interurban line is laid on it the whole street will be occupied.

HON. R. S. TAYLOR

Commends the "Stoddard Lectures" for Their Beauty and Accuracy.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Oct. 7, 1901.
Balch Brothers, Boston, Mass.:

Gentlemen—I have recently returned from a trip to Europe, where I had with me one volume of Stoddard's Lectures. A friend who was along had two other volumes, so that I had an excellent opportunity to verify the faithfulness of the descriptions and illustrations in the book. I found the scenes well selected, vividly described and beautifully illustrated. The illustrations in particular cover the choicest subjects in the various countries described and are, from an artistic point of view, as perfect in execution as the resources of a camera and the half-tone print make possible. Upon the whole the volumes constitute, beyond question, the finest and most comprehensive description of the various countries and nations of the world ever given to the public. You will do a favor to every family where you place the work.

Yours very truly,
R. S. TAYLOR.

PLACES OF SHIPS IN FIGHT WRONGLY SHOWN.

WAINWRIGHT ADMITS THAT

SAYS CHART, HOWEVER, WAS BEST POSSIBLE.

HODGSON EXPLAINS WORDS

NEWSPAPER WAS TRADUCING BRAVE MEN.

Washington, Oct. 8.—Commander Richard Wainwright testified before the Schley court today that the chart showing the positions of the Brooklyn and the Texas in the Santiago battle was incorrect. He said that he was never satisfied with it. It was a compromise of the opinions of the navigating officers of the vessels of the American fleet, he said.

CAPTAIN FOLGER RECALLED.

The proceedings of the day began by the recall of Capt. W. M. Folger for the purpose of correcting his testimony of yesterday. Advantage was taken of his presence to ask him further questions concerning the blockade of Santiago.

Among other questions he was asked by Captain Lemly if he had had any conversation with Commodore Schley during the blockade.

The witness said toward the evening of one of the days, the 30th, there was a prolonged and severe rain storm, so severe he feared Cervera had gotten out, as it was sufficiently to have permitted it. Next day he went aboard Admiral Schley's flagship to tell him what he had seen of the blockade kept by the Japanese at Wei-Wei. He suggested adoption of Japanese tactics of forming a circle directly in front of the harbor. The witness said he could not testify exactly as to Admiral Schley's reply, but in substance he did not agree with the necessity of it. The witness maintained his belief as to the state of the weather, notwithstanding its disagreement with the log of the New Orleans for that date.

THE BROOKLYN'S STEAMING.

Captain Folger was then excused and Lieutenant Dyson was called. He was questioned by Captain Lemly concerning the steaming condition of the Brooklyn the day of the naval battle.

He described the Brooklyn's equipment of engines and said that on the morning of the 3rd of July both forward engines were uncoupled and fires were banked under three of the five main boilers. It took some time to get the fires started under the "dead" boilers. The witness detailed from the log of the Brooklyn all that was done to get up steam. He said that the Oregon had got up speed equal to the Brooklyn. He called attention to the fact that the New York had made sixteen or seventeen knots speed on the day of the battle. In response to questions from Captain Parker he said that the New York had not her engines coupled on the day of the battle and that the Brooklyn had made all the speed necessary.

HODGSON EXPLAINS.

Lieutenant Dyson was excused and Lieutenant Commander Hodgson, navigating officer of the Brooklyn, was recalled to correct errors in his testimony as printed in the official record. He said he desired to alter his reply to the question yesterday as to why he had designated as a "liar and a blackguard" the editor of a newspaper which had originally printed the alleged colloquy between himself and Commodore Schley. He was sorry, he said, that he so far forgot himself as to write such an intemperate letter. He did not accuse the paper of lying for printing that statement, but because it had represented Commodore Schley as displaying trepidation and cowardice in the battle and taking the Brooklyn and running away from the fight, and because it had wished to detract from the credit of Commodore Schley for his part in that battle, and because the paper sought also to detract from the credit of all the officers of the Brooklyn who took part in the battle.

COMMANDER WAINWRIGHT.

Commander Wainwright, who commanded the converted yacht Gloucester in the battle of Santiago and who fearlessly attacked and helped to destroy the Spanish torpedo boats Pluton and Furor, was called. The witness said he had been a member and latterly senior member of the board which had officially noted in making the chart showing the positions of the American and Spanish ships at Santiago. The witness told how conclusions were reached by that board.

Commander Wainwright admitted that the chart was incorrect, that it had been made by getting the opinion of each navigator concerning the position of his ship at different times, and that the final decision of the board was to get these opinions reconciled as near as possible. He said in response to a question by Mr. Raynor that he did not consider the places assigned to the Brooklyn and the Texas while the former was making her famous loop as correct. "For myself," he said, "I was never satisfied with the positions assigned." He said that while the board had done the best it could at the time, it had not satisfied any member, and it was all they could do to get them to sign the report. The witness said he did not see the Brooklyn and the Texas at the commencement of the battle and did not see any orders signaled by the Brooklyn during the battle, but said this did not mean that no orders were given by signal from the Brooklyn. He said he did not see any of the Spanish vessels change her course to the southward as if intending to ram the Brooklyn. Commander Wainwright was then excused and Lieut. M. L. Bristol, former watch and division officer of the Texas, was called. He had only related the arrival of the Texas at Cienfuegos and detailed conditions there when the court took a recess for luncheon.

At the afternoon session of the court Lieutenant Bristol detailed his view of many events around Santiago, especially the blockade and the reconnoisance of the Spanish land batteries, whose weakness he said had been developed. He gave a description of the battle and the chase of the Colon. He said that at the end of the chase the Brooklyn was ahead of the Oregon.

NO EFFORT BEING SPARED

TO SECURE MISS STONE'S RELEASE FROM BANDITS.

Government at Washington Makes an Arrangement for Advancing the Ransom.

Washington, Oct. 8.—Not since the successful attempt to save the life of John Hays Hammond, the American engineer implicated in the Jamison raid, has the state department put forth such energetic efforts to save a human life as it is now exerting in behalf of Miss Stone, the American missionary who was captured by Bulgarian bandits. A sum of money has been forwarded by the agency of the cable to Spencer Eddy, the United States secretary of the legation at Constantinople, who has shown remarkable energy and ability in unearthing the ramifications of the plot which resulted in the kidnaping of Miss Stone.

There is little doubt that the Turkish government has done all that it could be expected to do to run down the bandits, and what is now to be done is to secure similar action on the part of the Bulgarian government and to that end influences more potent with the Slav races than those of the United States government are now at work. Should these measures fail then the ransom money must be paid, and that is why Mr. Eddy has been placed in possession of this powerful auxiliary.

ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance association was held today in the assembly room of the court house, and about fifty stockholders were in attendance at the meeting. The report of the treasurer showed a most satisfactory financial condition. During the year policies to the amount of $491,740 have been written, a net increase of $287,083. The total number of new policies is 289. There have been thirty-five losses, twelve from fires caused by lightning and twenty-three from other causes. The total receipts for the year were $4,225 and the amount paid out for losses was $4,175,66. The election of officers was held this afternoon.

BOARDERS TAKEN SICK.

Seven persons who eat at a boarding house on Lewis street are sick, several of them quite seriously, from something eaten at the table Saturday evening, it is believed. None of them are critical and what caused the illness is not yet determined. Drs. McOscar, English and G. B. Stemen have various of the patients under their care.

Miss Bertha Modsker, of Lewis street, is dangerously ill. Her father, John Modsker, is connected with the S. F. Bowser works.

FAMOUS OLD EIGHTY-EIGHTH

HOLDING REGIMENTAL REUNION IN FORT WAYNE.

MANY VETERANS ARE HERE

UNION CAMPFIRE ON PROGRAM THIS EVENING.

Thirty-nine years ago today—on October 8, 1862—in the terrific conflict at Perryville, Ky., a new regiment of untrained Hoosier volunteers but six weeks away from Camp Allen at Fort Wayne, received its first baptism of battle. That was the Eighty-eighth regiment of Indiana volunteers, and today the gallant survivors of that famous old command are holding their annual reunion in Fort Wayne.

CAPT. ALLAN H. DOUGALL,
Adjutant Eighty-Eighth Indiana Volunteers.

Proudly they marched away from the confines of the camp which occupied the district west of Main street, in what is now known as Nebraska, to aid in defense of the union, and though precipitated almost at once into the heat of conflict, these volunteers left through the remaining years of the civil war a record whose luster only grows brighter as time goes by. Many of those soldiers were Allen county boys; the rest were from the counties adjoining, and Fort Wayne today extends its welcome to a regiment which it may consider its own.

ARE 488 SURVIVORS.

Of the 1,107 men who originally composed the Eighty-eighth regiment there are now a total of 488 surviving, and of these 134 have registered at the reunion headquarters today. This is by all odds the largest attendance of survivors attending a regimental reunion in this part of the state this year. Among those present today are three field and staff officers, ten members of Company A, which came from Waterloo; seven from Company B at Albion; twenty from Company C, Fort Wayne; seventeen from Company D, Allen county; thirteen from Company E, Fort Wayne; twenty-three from Company F, Fort Wayne; six from Company G, Lagrange; fourteen from Company H, DeKalb county; four from Company I, Elkhart, and seventeen from Company K, Columbia City. In addition to this there is a total of nearly one hundred visiting veterans of other commands in the city to participate in the reunion of the Eighty-eighth and Eleventh battery.

OLD FLAGS THERE.

And the old flags are there—the tattered banners carried by the regiment through many of its battles. These are in charge of Sergeant John Jones, of 63 West Butler street. A number of the old regimental and company musicians are also present, among them Al Ruch, of Petoskey, who was the principal musician; Frank Beidler, of Waterloo, fifer, and Zachariah Miller, of Iola, Kas., also a fifer. In addition to these a martial band made up by the sons of Eighty-eighth veterans, has been contributing its stirring music under the direction of Reuben Browand, of this city.

GATHERED TO REGISTER.

During the forenoon reunion headquarters were opened in the court house assembly room and here Capt. A. H. Dougall conducted the register for both veterans of the Eighty-eighth regiment and visiting soldiers, and issued badges and tickets for dinner which was served at the Elektron building by the ladies of the W. R. C. The veterans thronged to headquarters, enjoyed a general handshake all 'round, met old comrades, told stories and renewed the comradeship of thirty-five years ago. There was much good-natured jest among the veterans at the silvering locks and time-traced faces, but there was comradeship and love of the heartiest sort, such as perhaps exists nowhere except among veteran soldiers.

AT SAENGERBUND HALL.

Saengerbund hall on West Main street, where the veterans held their meeting this afternoon, was well filled when Col. C. E. Briant mounted the rostrum shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon. Some very pretty effects in the way of decoration were shown about the hall, and in the decorations both the Eighty-eighth regiment and the Eleventh battery were recognized. The singing of the national anthem, "America," by the entire audience, opened the exercises, and Rev. T. A. Patee invoked divine blessing upon the old veterans.

THE MAYOR'S WELCOME.

In welcoming the veterans to Fort Wayne, Mayor Berghoff said:

Ladies and Gentlemen: A few nights ago I had the honor to welcome to this city in this very same place the gallant One Hundred and Twenty-ninth Infantry at their reunion and was surprised that the tempest of time had not very much interfered with their youthful looks, but today when I gaze upon this audience the picture is a different one—every feature in front of me shows the veteran, their locks steady and clear—although the blonde and black curls of youth have changed to the honored white—yet in their hearts the youth of patriotism remains as fresh as ever.

I am glad indeed to welcome you. To the Eighty-eighth Indiana, the veterans of Sherman, Hooker, Palmer and Thomas corps, we are indebted for many glorious deeds, while the Eighty-eighth has done more fighting than the average, your record of battles cannot be excelled. From the time you received your baptism of powder at the battle of Perryville until the final stroke

VETERANS OF ELEVENTH INDIANA BATTERY HERE.

TIME THINNING THE RANKS

BUT SPIRIT OF COMRADESHIP IS YET WARM.

NEXT MEETING AT HOAGLAND

OFFICERS ELECTED AT SESSIONS AT CITY HALL.

Survivors of the gallant old Eleventh Indiana battery gathered in Fort Wayne today for their eighteenth annual reunion, to meet old comrades, recall once more the experiences of war time and renew the bonds of comradeship formed during the arduous service in the civil war. The business sessions were held in the city council chamber, and the meeting was of unusual interest. The splendid record of this battery is enshrined among the brightest achievements of union soldiery.

The association was organized in this city eighteen years ago, and held its first reunion at the old fair grounds, which are now included in Swinney park, and it has held these meetings yearly since that date. For the past year the officers have been: Lieut. John Otto, president; Lieut. H. M. Williams, vice president; W. M. Glenn, secretary, and H. C. Zollinger treasurer. Lieutenant Otto presided at the meeting today, and for the coming year officers were elected as follows:

NEW OFFICERS CHOSEN.

President—Lieut. John Otto, Auburn.

Vice President—Lieut. H. M. Williams, Fort Wayne.

Secretary—William H. Glenn, Fort Wayne.

Treasurer—H. C. Zollinger, Fort Wayne.

Trustee—Samuel S. Kelker, Fort Wayne.

Executive Committee—John McIntosh, J. J. Conklin, H. C. Zollinger, S. S. Kelker, John Koons, William M. Glenn.

It was decided to hold the next annual reunion at Hoagland in September, 1902.

In calling the reunion to order this morning Lieutenant Otto expressed his gratification at again being able to look into the faces of so many old comrades. "None are closer to my heart," said he, "than my old fellow-members of the Eleventh Indiana battery. It is a glorious thing to have helped sustain the government under which we live. It should inspire us all to the highest plane of living. Time is rolling on and we must be ready for the change soon to come—for the promotion into the army of eternity, and I hope we shall all participate in that grand reunion over there." Lieutenant Otto noted with pleasure that so far as is known death had not invaded the ranks of the battery during the past year.

Back of the secretary's desk hung the old flag carried through southern battle-fields by the Eleventh battery. Shot and shell, time and tempest have reduced the starry banner to little more than tatters, and it is carefully preserved by S. S. Kelker, of this city, as the most treasured memento of the organization. The badges of the members today were tied with a small bow of black, the drapery being in honor of the late President McKinley.

WILL PERPETUATE IT.

One of the most important matters transacted at today's session was the adoption of a new constitution which has for its purpose the perpetuation of the Eleventh battery organization. Aside from this feature the new constitution does not differ materially from the old, but it provides that hereafter the sons of the veterans may be admitted to associate membership in a class of their own, but that on the death of the father of the associate member the son becomes a regular member of the battery organization proper.

Many of the veterans today were accompanied by their wives and daughters, and it was evident they enjoyed the opportunity for handshaking and visitation, relating old experiences of comradeship fully as much as the more purely business portions of the reunion. The greater part of the business session was concluded by noon, when the veterans marched to the W. R. C. hall in the Elektron building and enjoyed an abundant dinner served by the ladies of the Women's Relief corps. A brief business session this afternoon closed the reunion proper, and during the afternoon the veterans have been sight-seeing, visiting and mingling together, many of them attending the session of the Eighty-eighth at Saengerbund hall. This evening both organizations will join in a monster campfire at Saengerbund hall.

THE REGISTRATION.

Members of the Eleventh Indiana battery who registered at the reunion today were as follows:

RECRUITED AT FORT WAYNE.

The Eleventh battery of light artillery, Indiana volunteers, was recruited at Fort Wayne and mustered into the service at Indianapolis December 11, 1861, with Arnold Sutermeister as captain. Soon after its organization the battery proceeded to Louisville and moved with General Buell's army to Nashville, arriving there February 26, 1862. From thence the battery moved with its division to Pittsburg Landing, arriving at the close of the battle of Shiloh and participating in the siege of Corinth which followed. Upon the evacuation of Corinth the battery moved with the main army through northern Mississippi to Tuscumbia, Ala., and thence to Huntsville, where it went into camp in July. The rebel General Bragg having transferred a large part of his army through Alabama and Georgia, reached Chattanoogn in advance of General Buell's forces, turned his left and moving up the Sequatchie valley, crossed Tennessee and entered Kentucky.

CHASED GENERAL BRAGG.

General Buell's army fell back to Nashville and then moved in pursuit of the rebel army. The Eleventh battery moved with the main column, and after the pursuit of Bragg had ceased, returned to Nashville, and

THE RACES BEGIN

IDEAL DAY INAUGURATES THE RED RIBBON MEET.

GOOD CROWDS FOR FIRST DAY

MANY LADIES HONOR THE OCCASION.

FIELDS ARE WELL MATCHED

GOOD PROGRAM FOR TOMORROW IS ASSURED.

Unless "Old Sol" proves himself to be a bad actor before sundown this will have been an ideal day for the opening of a race meeting. This morning for an hour or two it looked as though there might be trouble brewing in the clouds and Jupiter Pluvius seemed to be standing just beyond the drawgate awaiting for a sign to come on. Later in the forenoon the clouds cleared away and when the bell tapped this afternoon the weather could not have been more delightful had it been made to order.

For an opening day the crowd was a good one—better than the average, and the liberal sprinkling of bright colors in the grand stand betokened the presence of a goodly number of ladies. If it is money that makes the mare go, it is likewise a sure thing that ladies make the races go. Anything is bound to be a success that has the encouragement of the fair ones, and this the management doubtless knew and had in mind when they decided to make the opening day an invitation day for the ladies. Not only the ladies and gentlemen, but the horses, too, were at the track and it can be truthfully said that a more evenly matched field of horses has never been brought to Fort Wayne. They are well matched and are fast as well.

The opening race, the 2:35 trot, presented Queen Exum a warm favorite, but in the pool selling the field speedily backed her down and Prestoria money was in great evidence. In the 2:18 pace Red Patchen and R. R. Johnson were the favorites, as was predicted. The third race, the runners, presented an enigma. Runners are hard to guess at any time and the talent goes badly wrong as often as right when trying to frame up a satisfactory betting list. For today Betty B., Lake View Belle and Apple Jack are touted as the most likely ones and they stand as favorites in the order named. There will be about fifteen starters at least in this race. In the 2:24 trot Eunice is the best thought of on the list.

TOMORROW'S PROGRAM.

For tomorrow another splendid program is offered.

The event of the day will, of course, be the free-for-all pace, which will be a horse race from the very jump and it is said that the horse who beats Harry O. in that race will have to go faster than 2:04, which is considerably better than the track record in a race, although Robert J. some years ago stepped it off in 2:03¾ against time. Edith W., the fastest mare in the world, is the one who is expected to make Harry O. go his best mile of the year. The Bishop, who made Edith W. step her best at Cincinnati last week, is the next one on the list, and between these three the best race ever gone over Fort Wayne ground is expected to be seen tomorrow. Meantime the field must not be sneezed at and among the bunch it will require a very fastidious taste, indeed, that will not find itself satisfied.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

Licenses to wed have been granted to the following:

Joseph L. Contardot and Louisa Oberly.

Eugene R. Schnelker and Rosella M. Neufer.

The many friends of Samuel Chaska, the popular salesman and member of the firm of Charles Falk & Co., will be glad to learn that he is on the road to recovery. Mr. Chaska has been seriously ill with pneumonia since last Tuesday, but his condition is now much improved.

INDIANAPOLIS ELECTION.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 8.—An ideal day has brought out a heavier vote for mayor than was expected. The republican leaders express confidence in the outcome, while on the other hand the partisans of democracy claim that the early vote has broken the record and they anticipate victory. There are five candidates in the field: Charles McGuire, democrat; Charles A. Bookwalter, republican; Dungen, prohibitionist; Moore, socialist labor, and Mills, socialist.

of Bentonville the Gal of wars kept you marching and fighting.

We are glad to see here today so many familiar faces who have in time gone by fought the battles of the Union under the roar of the cannon and the crack of the musket and are today fighting similar battles in the bloodless arena of national politics—and well it is for every true patriot to do so.

We are a nation of peace—a sovereign nation cemented together by the desires of seventy-five millions of patriots whose hearts wish peace. We settle our battles at the ballot box and yet we must be prepared for war. Whenever our honor and integrity is at stake and peace cannot be held without dishonor, humiliation and oppression, the world must recognize the fact that we can fight—are ready to fight and will fight.

When our forefathers laid down their lives upon the battle-field of Bunker Hill they intended this Union to be forever and forever and it shall be. The question how it shall be preserved is plain—it can only be preserved as it was constructed and maintained:

First—By keeping alive the patriotic spirit of the heroes of Bunker Hill, Perryville, Chickamauga, Gettysburg and San Juan Hill.

Second—By the maintenance of a citizens' army, where every citizen born under the flag or who has sworn allegiance to the flag becomes a soldier at the call of him whom the people have chosen as their leader.

THE CITIZEN SOLDIER.

Give us the citizen soldier—whose soul and heart is imbued with the spirit of liberty—and we can resist and defeat any army that may oppose us. It was not until the black cloud of the war of rebellion broke out that we recognized the value of a citizen soldier army—when the country was in danger—and young and old, rich and poor, arose at the call of Lincoln and offered their service and their lives to preserve the Union; when their citizens came in columns of thousands—yea, hundreds of thousands—from the hillsides and out of the valleys—the world stood amazed. When every city and hamlet became a recruiting station of nations; when all distinction of classes disappeared and everyone stood upon the one level as a patriot—when none were for party and all for the state—it was then we could truthfully say the "spirit of Bunker Hill is still in the hearts of every American and the Union is safe."

And when the great war was over, and "Old Glory" could be seen floating once more over a great united country, the army disbanded—everyone returned to the field, the workshop or his business, the clash of swords and the beating of drums ceased, all heroes became plain citizens again. But the mission of a citizen soldier did not end then nor has it ended yet. While at peace with the outer world, yet there is an enemy within our land more dangerous than an open foe—the spirit of anarchy.

When some few years ago William McKinley, then governor of Ohio, at the dedication of the soldiers' monument at Cuyahoga county said, "With patriotism in our hearts and the flag of our country in our hands, there is no danger of anarchy," little did he think that the bullet of the assassin would some day pierce his body.

KEEP READY FOR ACTION.

Let us therefore be awake to the fact that it is necessary to keep ready for action the citizen soldier at any and all times against the enemies from within and without—ready to protect and defend the Union against all foes—ready to protect every citizen against the enemies of all organized governments—and especially those who cannot distinguish between liberty and anarchy.

It now becomes my pleasant duty as mayor of the city of Fort Wayne, the city of old Camp Allen, to welcome all of you and I want to say that we are not only proud but feel honored to receive such a great body of patriots. I want to welcome with you the ladies that accompany you because I believe that the future of a nation not only lies in the hands of man alone, but also in the safe and tender care of women. I believe in meetings of this kind we should never forget the duty that rests upon the women, especially the mother. It is she who moulds and directs the thoughts of the innocent youth to its final destination; it is she who implants into the heart of the child the first seeds of patriotism and love of country; it is she who directs the innocent thoughts of youth to the ruler of the universe and makes it understand its duty towards His God, and whenever a man understands his duty towards his God he cannot fail to understand his duty towards his country nor the duty towards his wife and family.

I welcome all of you and I hope that this meeting will not only be a meeting of mutual exchange of greetings, but will renew in your hearts the duties you owe to your flag and your country and will leave all future generations to follow your footsteps. If this is done you can rest assured that your meeting has been a success. I want you to feel at home in our city and when you leave it take with you a desire to return.

COL. BRIANT RESPONDS.

The venerable Col. C. E. Briant, of Huntington, whom every veteran knows and loves, responded in behalf of the soldiers, acknowledging in graceful words the welcome of the mayor and assuring the people of Fort Wayne that the pleasure of the occasion was mutual.

Miss Laura Slessman gave a recitation, "Another Year of the Eighty-eighth," which was highly enjoyed, and Capt. J. C. Kensill, one of the best known Fort Wayne veterans, contributed to the program in his inimitable manner.

HEARD REPORTS.

Col. C. B. Oakley was officer of the day and Josiah King acting quartermaster. The adjutant, Capt. A. H. Dougall, presented his reports for the year. Twenty-two veterans of the regiment have died during the past year, as follows:

Field and Staff—Quartermaster Ira Rupert.

Company A—H. F. Kennedy, Jacob Showalter.

Company B Robert A. Hinman, Joseph W. Nowells, Joseph W. Teal, William Pearson, Cornelius D. Van-Frank.

Company F—John McBride, Adam Coolman, John R. Dishong.

Company I—George S. Clarke, John Hughes.

Then followed an informal report from each company, made by a comrade, and following this came an eloquent memorial to the dead comrades by Captain F. F. Boltz, of Bluffton. A committee was appointed on time and place of next meeting and a committee on resolutions, each of which is to report at the evening session.

CAT FIRE TONIGHT.

This evening at Saengerbund hall the Eighty-eighth regiment and the Eleventh battery will unite in a campfire program, to which all are invited. Col. C. E. Briant will preside, with Lieut. John Otto as vice president. The Sons of Veterans quartet will render music for the evening, and Miss Laura Slessman will give two recitations. Lieutenant Governor Gilbert will speak on "Our Younger Veterans of the Spanish War;" Rev. Patee will speak on "The Infantry," taking the place of Gen. L. J. Blair, who is unable to be present; Rev. George Musson, of Ligonier, will speak on "The Cavalry," and Lieutenant Otto on "The Artillery." A. T. Lukens and John C. Kensill and others will contribute to the program.

Calls will be made for Capt. W. A. Kelsey, of Anthony Wayne post; Mrs. Sawtell, of Ladies of the G. A. R.; Judge S. M. Hench, of Sion S. Bass post; Miss Nettie Rice, of L. A. of Sons of Veterans; B. WOMAN

HER CARE AND HAPPINESS.

Never did women accept the truth of Mother's Friend more willingly than those thousands who have tried it. The prime object in a medicine for expectant mothers is safeness and virtue, qualifications impossible to find in internal doses made of nasty, injurious and stimulating drugs.

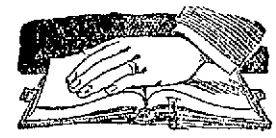
is a liniment rubbed in with the hands—something to lubricate the internal tissues and muscles. Something gentle, comforting and refreshing; a balm for the nerves, a softener for the cords holding the heavy burden, an invigorator for the muscles, making them elastic, thereby permitting with ease expansion as the fetus grows to be a live baby.



Mother's Friend is the only liniment that will make the usually dreaded tissue easy, and leave the child healthy, and the mother with all her grace and symmetry unmarred. Of druggists, $1.00.

DYSPEPSIA

Dyspepsia is called the "American's Disease," as it is said to attack more residents of this country than any other. Americans live too rapidly—are always too hurried to give proper attention to the selection of food and to take the time to eat it. If you have an especially distressed condition of the stomach after eating, an inability to partake of the lightest meal with perfect freedom from a "crowded feeling" in the stomach immediately afterwards, belching, irritability and a generally disturbed mental condition, you have Dyspepsia.

The Best Horse

IS the horse to place your money on—if you bet. We say, "DON'T BET." A man who bets is a gambler. Still a great many of our best people think that a man who does not bet is no better (bettor.) When you buy a new suit of clothes, lay your money down in favor of the best suit. A "PATTERSON" suit is a "favorite" against the field in Fort Wayne. A Patterson suit was never known to be in a race for a new home where it did not win out. It has all the "ear marks" of a winner. The graceful curve in the "neck," the well shaped body of the coat, the "hand padding," the "hair" cloth front in the coat, the perfect shaped legs in the trouser, and the cut-out instep, making it fall over the "shoe" without a wrinkle, are things that are sure to make it win, even if the price was not so extremely low. We save you money and give you present and future protection. For present protection we say "MONEY BACK if you are not satisfied." For future protection we say "suits kept in repair for one year." See our $15.00 suits with hand work.

TWO VALUES.

THERE are two values to every purchase—what it costs and what it pays you. Cork costs 8 cents a pound, but if you are drowning half a mile from shore, its value would be "not what you pay for cork, but what cork saves you." When a woman buys soaps she often confuses the two values. She sees only what she pays. She overlooks what she receives. Now a single cake of Ivory Soap pays back from ten to twenty times its cost in the saving it effects. Test it yourself! Vegetable Oil Soap. Ivory white. It floats!

GAME WARDENS FIGHT FARMERS.

Logansport, Ind., Oct. 8.—Deputy Fish and Game Warden Wallace Smith and two men who had been sworn in to assist him were peppered with shot, and one country lad was seriously injured Sunday night in a lively running fight between the officers of the law and a number of farmer fishermen. A crusade against violators of the law has been actively in progress since the new statute went into effect. The farmers were found in the middle of the Wabash river spearing fish, but when commanded to come ashore by Smith put out their lights and got safely away in the darkness. Smith found several spears and some seines, which were loaded into the buggy, and a start for Logansport was made. The officers had not gone far before a shot rang out and Smith got a load of bird shot in his legs. The farmers were in ambush and began a second fire. Both horses were shot and all three deputies were painfully hurt. Smith emptied his revolver, shooting one of the farmers, who was carried away by his fellows. His identity has not yet been discovered. There is likely to be more violence, as residents of the neighborhood declare they will resist the law. Smith says the regulations will be enforced at any cost.

ABANDONED IT.

For the Old-Fashioned Coffee Was Killing.

"I always drank coffee with the rest of the family, for it seemed as if there was nothing for breakfast if we did not have it on the table.

"I had been troubled some time with my heart, which did not feel right. This trouble grew worse steadily.

"Sometimes it would beat fast and at other times very slowly, so that I would hardly be able to do work for an hour or two after breakfast, and if I walked up a hill, it gave me a severe pain.

"I had no idea of what the trouble was until a friend suggested that perhaps it might be caused by coffee drinking. I tried leaving off the coffee and began drinking Postum Cereal Food Coffee. The change came quickly. I am now glad to say that I am entirely well of the heart trouble and attribute the cure to leaving off coffee and the use of Postum Cereal Food Coffee.

"A number of my friends have abandoned the old-fashioned coffee and have taken up with Postum, which they are using steadily. There are some people that make Postum very weak and tasteless, but if it is boiled long enough, according to directions, it is a very delicious beverage. We have never used any of the old-fashioned coffee since it was first started in our house." Mrs. L. A. Smith, Blodgett Mills, Cortland Co., N. Y.

Boiled down Expert MacHarg's report says the South Wayne sewer will be all right if it is properly constructed.

It may be that if Cervera had come out of Santiago at some other time he would have escaped; but the fact remains that when he actually did come out he lost everything but his bathriggans.

The citizens of Indianapolis are voting today for city officers and a host of friends of diverse political connections here in Fort Wayne are hoping Charlie Bookwalter will pull through. There is no politics in their good wishes for the success of one of the best fellows on earth and the triumph of an able and clean man.

If Cervera had carted his fleet overland from Santiago to the north coast of Cuba Admiral Schley would have had something else to answer for. But Cervera didn't. He came out where the American fleet lay and Admiral Schley did what was expected. The expert can look back three years and contemplate many possible and awful contingencies that did not turn out.

It is the barest humanity to settle with the Macedonian brigands and secure the release of Miss Stone. It is a big price and outrageous blackmail, but the missionary's life ought not to be imperilled by refusal to pay the ransom demanded. After she is out of danger there should be the kind of settlement such a case demands. This country is a trifle too big, too dignified and too independent to stand blackmailing by every band of cut-throats that happens to seize persons entitled to the protection of our government. The amount of that ransom should be promptly exacted of the Turkish government and a good rate of interest added, along with a demand for punishment of the brigands.

PROMPT ACTION EXPECTED.

The city council will doubtless have before it tonight the report of the committee on franchises dealing with the contract entered into by the board of works with the Fort Wayne and Southwestern interurban line.

Unless the committee's investigations have disclosed better reasons than are now known to the public for withholding approval of the franchise the people of this city will expect the council to ratify the contract. The Southwestern company has built its line to the city and is waiting to come in. Every proposed route for entrance to the business district where the road must come has been effectually objected to. The Harrison street route is the best yet proposed, both for the city and the interurban line. It is a route that will admit to the most desirable part of the city other interurban lines that may be built. There is, as a matter of fact, less objection made to it than has been offered in the case of any other line proposed. No route can be proposed that will not arouse objection. But the line must come down town and minor and private interests along some route must be subordinated to the general interests of the city and its people.

It is time to settle this vexed and much-prolonged controversy. The merchants and manufacturers—in short, business interests generally, as well as a vast majority of the people believe the council should without delay give this enterprise the means of getting down town.

Edward Sherbundy has returned home to Peru after a brief visit in the city.

Itching Scalp.

Scald Head and the most Violent Forms of Eczema and Salt Rheum Promptly and Thoroughly Cured by Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment.

Among small children, scald head and similar itching skin diseases are most prevalent, and the worst feature is that these ailments, which are apparently trivial at first almost invariably develop into chronic eczema if neglected.

There is but one treatment that physicians are unanimous in recommending for scald heads and eczema, and that is Dr. Chase's Ointment, the great antiseptic healer. It promptly stops the distressing itching which accompanies these diseases and positively produces a thorough and complete cure.

Mr. J. H. Grant, 716 Joseph Chapman avenue, Detroit, Mich., writes:

"For three years I have been troubled by an intense itching on my body. So terrible was it at times that I could get no rest night or day. I tried all kinds of ointments and blood purifiers, but could get no relief. Mr. H. A. Nicolai of 379 Division street recommended Dr. Chase's Ointment. A few applications stopped the itching and I have felt nothing since."

Baby Eczema.

Mr. F. S. Rose, of 133 Sixteenth street, Buffalo, N. Y., writes:

"Our baby boy suffered for some time with that wretched eczema, and we were unable to find anything to cure or even relieve his pain. A few applications of Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment stopped the itching and healed the sores, and a bright, natural skin now takes their place."

ABOUT THE COURT HOUSE

Harry Gray, the young lad who forged a check on his employer on Saturday, got quick action on his money yesterday. At police court in the morning he tried to bluff everybody, at the next session of the court, held a few hours later, he confessed his guilt and was bound over to the circuit court, and at 3:30 yesterday afternoon he was taken into court, where he entered a plea of guilty and was given an indeterminate sentence of two to fourteen years, and if nothing happens, by morning he will be on his way to the state reformatory prison.

The jury in the case of the state ex rel Mary Stewart vs. Joseph Horstman in paternity proceedings returned a sealed verdict at 10 o'clock this morning. The verdict of the jury was simply a finding of fact and declared the defendant to be the father of the relatrix's child. A motion was immediately filed asking for a new trial, and pending the arguments and ruling no sentence was pronounced.

During the summer vacation of the circuit court John W. Vordermark made application and was granted letters of administration in the estate of Henry Tilberry, dead many years. The letters were issued by the county clerk and this morning Judge O'Rourke revoked them. It was shown and the court so held, that the will under which the letters were granted, was made in 1854 and that all the beneficiaries had long since become of age; that the trouble now was simply among the heirs to right a title; that the law provided other ways of settling such matters, and that there exists no reason why letters of administration should issue at this late day.

The case of the state ex rel Blanche Travis vs. Charles Shaffer in paternity proceedings, was dismissed in the circuit court at the relatrix's cost, the case having been compromised out of court.

The case of Ulrich Brake vs. Charles Moellering, appealed from the circuit court, was dismissed by Judge O'Rourke.

The county commissioners this morning visited Lakeside to inspect several county culverts.

H. Richard Kithe has filed his current report as guardian of William G. Franze.

Sophia Webster et al have commenced partition proceedings against George W. Highland et al.

In the superior court today the case of Shively vs. Ridenour was dismissed. The Baltes Supply company was given judgment against Henry Yobst et al. for $1,113.69. Louisa Flynn was given judgment against Henry B. Monning et al. for $119.68.

A PROPOSITION

FROM THE FORT WAYNE TRACTION COMPANY.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Oct. 4, 1901.

Hon. Wm. J. Hosey, Alderman Second Ward, Chairman of Contracts and Franchises Committee of the Common Council, City.

Dear Sir—I herewith hand you a proposition covering several plans by which the Fort Wayne and Southwestern Traction company and other inter-urban companies may use the tracks of the Fort Wayne Traction company within the city limits of Fort Wayne as they now exist or may hereafter be extended.

Plan 1. With the permission of the city we will construct a double track on Broadway, from Creighton avenue to Washington street, and on Main street, from Broadway to Calhoun street, and will then extend the use of this track to the Fort Wayne and Southwestern Traction company upon the following terms: The Fort Wayne and Southwestern Traction company to furnish the cars and the men to operate the same and to pay us a full five-cent fare for all passengers carried, all passengers to receive transfers to and from our various city lines, and we will pay the wages of the Southwestern company's motormen and conductors while operating cars over our lines. If transfers are not given, then the fare is to be three cents instead of five, and the Southwestern company to furnish the cars and the men and to pay the wages of the men while operating over the said lines.

Plan 2. With the permission of the city we will construct a track or tracks from our property on Holman street to Clinton street, and north on Clinton street from Holman to Lewis streets, thence on Clinton street from Holman north to Main street. We will construct a single track (thus constituting a double track between Lewis and Main streets, there being a single track on this portion of the street at present), thence on Clinton street from Main to Columbia, we will construct a double track, one of which may be used as a running track and the other as a sidetrack for the purpose of permitting the interurban cars to wait for passengers and make connections with other lines. We will permit the Fort Wayne and Southwestern company, after it has constructed its lines from Harrison street on Douglas avenue, crossing Calhoun street to Montgomery street, and thence to Clinton street, to make connection at this point with our Clinton street tracks, and to use the same from Montgomery street to the terminus above described, on Clinton street, between Main and Columbia streets, free of charge, except a pro rata share of the track repair account and one-half the cost of any new street paving which may hereafter be ordered by the city; but for every one hundred feet of track of the Fort Wayne Traction company so used by the Fort Wayne and Southwestern company the former company shall have the privilege of using a like distance of the track of the Fort Wayne and Southwestern company under the same terms wherever located within the city limits of Fort Wayne. Under this plan no transfers will be given or accepted. We will further permit the Fort Wayne and Southwestern company to use our poles and guy wires on Clinton street for the purpose of permitting it to string its own trolley and feed wires for the purpose of operating its cars by its own power.

Plan 3. We will make the same proposition in regard to constructing track on Clinton and Holman streets as described in plan 2, and if the Fort Wayne and Southwestern company does not desire to use its own power we will give them the use of the track and furnish power to propel their cars, they to furnish the cars and men to operate same, and we will make an equal division of a five-cent fare or an equal division of six tickets for twenty-five cents. Should any interurban company acquire the right to transport baggage, express, mail matter or freight through the streets of the city, we would accept the following compensation on such business: All matter, except live stock, if carried in combination passenger and baggage cars, a prorata share of the gross revenue from such business, the same to be determined on a mileage basis or distance carried over the lines of the respective companies; for the transportation of freight in freight cars, $4.00 per car from the point where the interurban line comes into the city or is turned over from the interurban lines to the Fort Wayne Traction company, to the regular terminus of the interurban company wherever located; or, if car is delivered at any other point after having first delivered it at the regular terminus, then an additional charge of $2.00 per car may be made.

Any of the above plans, with the exception of plan No. 2, will be applicable to any other interurban company or companies. I desire to direct your attention to the fact that a company called the Fort Wayne and Lima Traction company is proposing to construct an interurban electric line from Lima, O., to this city. They have asked us for and we have submitted to them a proposition under which their cars could come into this city over our Lewis street line. If (as seems probable), this proposition is accepted, the Clinton street plan would accommodate this company in an adequate manner. Should an interurban line approach the city from the north, it would be exactly in line with the Clinton street proposition. I respectfully call your attention to the fact that the Clinton street line would enable interurban companies to land their passengers directly at the opera house and postoffice, and practically at the court house, city hall and the market space; also within a few steps of the depots of the Pennsylvania and Wabash Railroad companies.

In explanation of the liberal terms contained in plan 2, or that portion of said plan which relates to the Southwestern company's stringing their own wires and operating their cars with their own power, I have to say that it is the intention of the Fort Wayne Traction company to make the terms so liberal as to make it evident to all concerned, especially the general public, who have been led to believe that the Fort Wayne Traction company has been using obstructive tactics, that such is not the case, but that on the other hand the Fort Wayne Traction company has always been willing to make a fair and equitable arrangement with any interurban company seeking entrance to this city.

Traction company has always been willing to make a fair and equitable arrangement with any interurban company seeking entrance to this city.

This proposition must be accepted if at all within ten days from the date hereof, and is made subject to the approval of the directors of the Fort Wayne Traction company.

Respectfully yours,
A. L. SCOTT,
General Manager.

THE NEWS OF THE POLICE

There was no police court this morning.

Superintendent Gorsline requests The Sentinel to suggest that this being race week, property holders should endeavor to assist the police in preventing robberies. While no suspicious characters have yet been seen in the city to be recognized, they are of a class which usually follow race meetings. A little extra precautions on the part of the householders may save no end of trouble.

The police department was today notified that a couple of horses had been stolen at Bluffton and that the thieves were supposed to be headed this way—maybe to take in the races.

Officers Rohrer and Cheviron are taking their vacations this week. The former is visiting friends in Chicago and the latter is skirmishing around in the state of Michigan.

Another bicycle was added to the unclaimed stock at the police station last night. An auction sale will possibly have to be resorted to to close out the supply.

USE PRECAUTION.

Prevention Better Than Cure.

Care should always be taken during the trying months of August and September to keep the system in perfect condition. There is no remedy on the market today that will so thoroughly fortify the entire digestive tract against the deadly germs of dysentery and diarrhea as Peptorene, the Health Tablet, and it should be kept in every home. Peptorene will at once give tone and strength to the digestive juices of the stomach and relieve the constipated condition of the bowels, giving these organs power to ward off the attack of summer complaint. SATIN SKIN

That most exquisite, dainty, refining, revivifying beautifier; SATIN-SKIN POWDER. Adhesive, invisible, harmless, this impalpable, hygienic complexion powder is only one made that doesn't clog the pores, because of its fluffy ingredients. LADIES, please LISTEN:

It is a fact that previous to the advent of SATIN-SKIN Powder many ladies who knew the daily need of a hygienic facial powder to remove that "shiny look," make a presentable appearance for dress occasions, have done without. They felt fearful of the results attending use of ordinary powders too many of which are known to contain lead, lime, bismuth and metallic salts. While these lend a temporary brilliancy to the skin, they insidiously deaden, darken and destroy its delicacy beyond repair. It remained for Albert E. Wood, Perfumer, Detroit, Mich., the compounder of SATIN SKIN Cream, universally admitted the most perfect article of its kind, to achieve success in manufacturing a hygienic complexion powder. SATIN-SKIN Powder is recommended by leading chemists and physicians as the only powder they have examined which does not clog the pores. You are now cordially invited to call at our store and obtain a FREE packet of SATIN-SKIN Powder. You will be very welcome, and positively not asked to buy.

In fact, you are requested to compare SATIN-SKIN Powder with any you have or know of. For oily, red, rough, anemic skin, as well as all dress occasions, SATIN-SKIN Powder will be found a refining, beautifying corrective. Gives dainty, alluring freshness and clear beauty to the skin that must be seen to be appreciated.

CAUTION:—Beware of so-called "talcum," "ris ground soapstone and foot powder, unfit for facial use.

SATIN-SKIN is a genuine complexion powder. Positively without lime, lead or any injurious ingredient. Use it with confidence and safety, with the assurance it will beautify any complexion and add charms inseparable its own. FAVORS HARRISON STREET

AS AN ENTRANCE FOR THE INTERURBAN LINES.

Commercial Club's Special Committee Will So Report—Talk of Grade Crossings.

After prolonged discussion and a thorough canvass of the situation the Commercial club's special committee to consider interurban railway matters will report as its unanimous opinion that interurban railroads should be granted independent franchises into the central part of the city, and that Harrison street should be made a common route by which all lines can reach the down-town district. Ten members of the committee were present when the decision was reached Monday evening, and the vote was unanimous.

Four meetings of the committee have been held, and the committee believes it has heard evidence upon every phase of the matter. Reports from other cities were secured, the interurban people presented its arguments for separate and independent entrances, and the propositions of the Fort Wayne Traction company were also gone over thoroughly. The committee will make its report to the club Thursday evening.

In the course of the committee's discussions it developed that the members very largely favor the abolition of grade crossings on Fairfield avenue, Calhoun, Harrison and Lafayette street, either by the construction of tunnels or by the elevation of the railroad tracks. General Manager Nelson, of the Southwestern, said that his company would be glad to enter into an agreement with the Pennsylvania and Wabash companies and the city to construct a subway at the Harrison street crossing if the electric line were permitted to lay its tracks at one side of the tunnel, separated by a partition from the driveway.

CRACKER BAKERY BURNED.

Chicago, Oct. 8.—Fire early today destroyed the McMahon Cracker and Biscuit company's factory at 46-50 Green street, causing a loss of $150,000, did $30,000 damage to Brewer & Hoffman's brewery adjoining and drove guests of several hotels into the street in their night clothes. The flames started in the bakery and within five minutes the whole structure was ablaze. The south wall of the factory toppled over, crushing the roof of a lodging house at 52-54 Green street, from which, just a few minutes before, the twenty-seven lodgers had hurried into the street. Guests of four other small hotels in the immediate vicinity were driven into the street in scant attire. The firemen soon abandoned their efforts to extinguish the flames, fast consuming the cracker plant, and confined their endeavors to preventing the fire from spreading. In this they were successful, as the hotels and small buildings near the factory sustained only nominal damages.

HIS HEAD BLOWN OFF.

Columbia City, Ind., Oct. 8.—Salem Hinkle, fifty years of age, met instant death near Coesse Sunday morning. While handling a shotgun the piece was discharged, literally blowing about one-third of the unfortunate man's head off. The case is believed to have been accidental.

ORGANIZED AN INSTITUTE.

An institute for the training of Sabbath school teachers was organized last evening at Bethany Presbyterian church by a few earnest Sunday school workers, with a membership of twenty-five. Rev. J. C. Breckinridge is the principal and Dr. George B. Stemen is first assistant. The course of study will require two years to complete and thorough instruction in the Bible will be given. The institute will meet every Wednesday night and an invitation to attend is extended all who are interested in Sabbath school work, regardless of denomination.

Tired

that's all. No energy, no vim, no vigor, no ambition. The head aches, thoughts are confused, memory fails. Life becomes a round of work but half accomplished, of eating that does not nourish, of sleep that fails to refresh and of resting that never rests. That's the beginning of nervous prostration.

"I was very nervous and so tired and exhausted that I could not do my work. One dose of Dr. Miles' Nervine quieted my nerves and drove away the lassitude. Seven bottles did wonders in restoring my health."

FOUR KILLED IN A WRECK

TERRIFIC SMASH-UP ON THE NEW YORK CENTRAL.

Light Engine and Freight Train in Collision—Men Buried Beneath Wreckage.

Utica, N. Y., Oct. 8.—One of the worst wrecks in the history of the Mohawk division of the New York Central and Hudson River railroad occurred at 1:50 o'clock this morning in the village of Criskany, seven miles west of this city. Four railroad men were killed in the wreck and one was injured.

The killed:

Spencer Shannon, of Schenectady, engineer.

George Palmerton, of Rensselaer, fireman.

William Wier, of Albany, brakeman.

Argyle Smith, of Rensselaer, fireman.

The injured:

James Hager, of Albany, bruised; not seriously.

An eastbound freight engine, No. 1861, collided with a light engine, No. 1569, which was crossing from track three to track four, thus causing the wreck. The crash was a terrific one and in an instant all four of the New York Central tracks were completely blocked. The bodies of Fireman Palmerton and Brakeman Wier, of the freight, were recovered in the wreck at 4 o'clock this morning. Both were badly scalded, but their bodies were not mutilated. Shannon was pinioned under the boiler head of his engine and considerable excavating was necessary in order to extricate him. Argye Smith, fireman of the light engine, was was found under the boiler. The only man to escape alive was Engineer Hager, of the light engine, who was hurled through the window of the cab of his engine and across what is known as "the factory ditch."

COMMISSION OF LUNACY.

This afternoon a commission of lunacy, of which Justice France will be president and Drs. Havrod, Macbeth and Nieschang will be examining physicians, will examine into the case of Andrew J. Owens, of Maumee avenue.

PRAIRIE FIRE RAGED.

Monday afternoon and most of Monday night a fierce prairie fire raged on the farms of Messrs. Baumgartner and Charles McCulloch, along the Wabash and Fort Wayne and Southwestern tracks. The fire originated in an eighty-acre tract owned by Baumgartner, which had been allowed to grow up with weeds. The flames consumed two stacks of hay, a small field of corn and a number of fences, and soon spread to the McCulloch land and adjoining farms. The soil was ignited and will continue to smoulder until a heavy rain extinguishes it. Farmers in the affected district joined in fighting the flames and prevented them spreading further. The damage will amount to nearly $1,000.

THE BELL, - - 18 Calhoun Street.

The bather sometimes finds the sand soft and yielding to his feet. It does not trouble him and he goes on until presently he sinks to his knees and discovers to his horror that he has to fight for his life in a quicksand.

Disease is much like the quicksand. The first symptoms of stomach trouble do not cause anxiety. But when the body grows weak through lack of nourishment and disease of the stomach breeds disease of heart, lungs, liver or kidneys, the sufferer realizes his danger and seeks for medicinal aid.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It cures diseases of heart, lungs, liver, kidneys, etc., when these diseases have their origin in disease of the stomach and its allied organs.

Thomas A. Swarts, of Sub-Station C, Columbus, Ohio, Box 163, writes: "I was taken with severe headache, then cramps in the stomach, and my food would not digest, then kidney and liver trouble, and my back got weak so I could scarcely get around. At last I had all the complaints at once, and the more I doctored the worse I got until six years passed. I had become so poorly I could only walk in the house by the aid of a chair, and I got so thin I had given up to die. Then a neighbor said, 'Take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and make a new man out of yourself.' The first bottle helped me so I thought I would get another, and after I had taken eight bottles, in about six weeks, I was weighed and found I had gained twenty-seven (27) pounds. I have done more hard work in the past eleven months than I did in two years before, and I am as stout and healthy to-day, I think, as I ever was."

This is to certify that after using the D. D. D. remedy for three weeks, I found myself cured of a bad case of Eczema of two years' standing, on my face, head and hands. Before trying the above remedy, I had tried everything the doctors prescribed for me, but was not benefited until I used the D. D. D.

I am agreeably surprised at the cure made on myself by the D. D. D. remedy in nine days, of Eczema-Rubrum. I always feel thankful to Dr. Joseph S. EXPERT MAKES HIS REPORT

ENGINEER M'HARG'S ADVICE ON SOUTH WAYNE SEWER.

Three-Ring Construction Some Places and Good Sense in All Will Assure Good Sewer.

Engineer MacHarg, of Chicago, who was here last week on invitation of Mayor Berghoff, to inspect the South Wayne sewer and submit such suggestions as he could conclude upon as an expert, made his official report to the city today. The document is quite lengthy and details the condition in which he found the various parts of the work which he visited and inspected, being accompanied on his visits by two members of the board of works and City Engineer Randall. He offers some suggestions, doubtless valuable to the contractors, respecting the best means of retaining the bottom of the foundation in ordinary cases and disposing of the water which naturally is an adjunct to all sewers built in sandy soil. He suggests some change in methods of "back-filling," and makes some recommendations concerning the placing of sheathing. Referring directly to some portions of the work where three-ringed construction should be put in, he says that on the portion now being constructed on Nelson street, where the open cut ranges from thirty to forty feet, for a distance of several hundred feet, he believes three rings should be built. The bottom of the cut is watery and the sand is extremely fine. On this character of bottom the outer ring should be placed as a sort of a foundation for the two-ring sewer proper and should be well filled behind, and the water should be kept away by bailing from a point in front of the invert construction, always. He does not believe that tunneling at that point should be resorted to. Tunneling, at any rate, is simply an expedient and is allowable only on permission of the engineer. He says he believes the contractor himself would prefer to do open cut work there, as the sand is too loose to hold air pressure. On the southern portion of the work he says he found a good bottom and, while recommending three rings at certain points only, as a whole he does not recommend three-ring construction. The latter portion of his report is in the following language:

"The whole secret of keeping a sewer from spreading or crushing in is to have a solid and even pressure of earth all around the sewer, and the inspector should see that this condition obtains during the laying of the brick.

"My conclusion in regard to the question submitted to me is that as a general proposition there is no need to use a third ring of brick in building the South Wayne sewer.

"The use of the third ring in the invert of a six-foot sewer in mushy ground or true quicksand is to make a foundation. It sometimes occurs that the outer ring cannot be laid with good and solid joints—in fact, is not an element of strength in the structure—here the third ring holds the quaking sand so that two good rings may be laid, and it should be used.

"I do not recall that I have seen any ground in Fort Wayne where this was unquestionably necessary, because the worst ground I have seen was brought into bad condition by unskillful handling. I think City Engineer Randall is capable of forming a judgment as to the necessity for using a third ring in the invert, if such ground is encountered, and I would suggest that the third ring be ordered by the board upon his recommendation.

"Respectfully submitted,

"W. S. MacHarg."

EXPLAINED ASSESSMENTS.

The special council committee appointed to investigate the assessments and construction of the intercepting sewer held a rather protracted session at the city hall last night, to which those who had grievances were invited. City Attorney Shambaugh met with the committee and to him was delegated the task of making a general explanation of the work in its entirety and the likewise pleasant duty of meeting all the kicks. The entire committee was present and Councilman Scheid acted as chairman during the evening. The notice of the meeting was frequently published in the daily press and the invitation was made general, yet there were less than a hundred persons in the lobby and of these a large proportion were interested as spectators only, showing that the number of dissatisfied persons is not nearly so large as might have been supposed judging from the row that was imminent several weeks ago. Mr. Shambaugh addressed those present in a general way giving a history of the interceptor from its inception to its completion and relating the circumstances and conditions which made its building a public necessity. In reviewing the assessments he said that the same plan as that used in other and larger cities having a similar improvement was followed. The distribution was made with a view of taxing the persons assessed in proportion to the benefits their several properties are supposed to have received. That mistakes were made, the speaker said, was quite probable, but they were mistakes and errors of judgment and not of intent; that in handling something like 15,000 separate pieces of property it was not unreasonable to suppose that mistakes were made, sometimes owing, as had since developed, to mistakes in the description of the parcels. In some cases the board was obliged to estimate unplatted ground and in other cases an estimate of relative benefits not governed altogether by frontage was made. The board, he said, he believed acted in good faith and conscientiously with a view of making the assessments equitable. If mistakes had been made in frontage the mistakes would be corrected at the comptroller's office after all the assessments had been paid in. Mr. Scheid, Mr. Hosey and others of the committee spoke and said that they had been working hard for several weeks and that they were satisfied that there had been no fraud of any kind practiced and that if there was they would find it before the investigation is completed and would give the public all the information they possessed in due time. In response to a question asking why the list of assessments had not been published it was stated that such a publication would have been impracticable and would have entailed an additional cost of not less than $1,000. It was further stated that the "kickers'" meeting had been duly advertised, once postponed and once a recess had been taken, and yet with all this notice there were not to exceed a total of half a dozen persons present to enter objections to the assessment and they had with one exception been easily and fully satisfied. The committee adjourned without indicating when they would be ready to make a final report.

BOARD OF WORKS.

At the meeting of the board of works yesterday afternoon the assessment rolls for paving Masterson street; for the alley between Wayne and Washington, from Calhoun to Harrison; for grading the alley between Jefferson and Madison streets, from Lafayette to Barr street, were approved and the rolls for the sidewalks on Dearborn street and the paving of Barr street were confirmed. A plat of a tract of land lying between the Nickel Plate and Wayne street in the east end was submitted for approval; an alley sewer was petitioned for in the Ninth ward and a petition for the extension of street car service on South Broadway was received.

No Argument Needed.

Every Sufferer From Catarrh Knows That Salves, Lotions, Washes, Sprays and Douches Do Not Cure.

Powders, lotions, salves, sprays and inhalers cannot really cure Catarrh, because this disease is a blood disease, and local applications, if they accomplish anything at all, simply give transient relief.

The catarrhal poison is in the blood and the mucous membrane of the nose, throat and trachea tries to relieve the system by secreting large quantities of mucous, the discharge sometimes closing up the nostrils, dropping into the throat, causing deafness by the closing the Eustachian tubes, and after a time causing catarrh of stomach or salicus throat and lung troubles.

A remedy to really cure catarrh must be an internal remedy which will cleanse the blood from catarrhal poison and remove the fever and congestion from the mucous membrane.

The best and most modern remedies for this purpose are antiseptics scientifically known as Eucalyptol, Guaiacol, Sanguinaria and Hydrastin, and while each of these have been successfully used separately, yet it has been difficult to get them all combined in one palatable, convenient and efficient form.

The manufacturers of the new catarrh cure, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, have succeeded admirably in accomplishing this result. They are large, pleasant tasting lozenges, to be dissolved in the mouth, thus reaching every part of the mucous membrane of the throat and finally the stomach.

Unlike many catarrh remedies, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets contain no cocaine, opiate or any injurious drug whatever and are equally beneficial for little children and adults.

Mr. C. R. Rembrandt, of Rochester, N. Y., says: "I know of few people who have suffered as much as I from catarrh of the head, throat and stomach. I used sprays, inhalers, and powders for months at a time with only slight relief, and had no hope of a cure. I had not the means to make a change of climate, which seemed my only chance of cure.

"Last spring I read an account of some remarkable cures made by Stuart's Catarrh Tablets and promptly bought a fifty cent box from my druggist and obtained such positive benefit from that one package that I continued to use them daily until I now consider myself entirely free from the disgusting annoyance of catarrh; my head is clear, my digestion all I could ask and my hearing, which had begun to fail as a result of the catarrh, has greatly improved until I feel I can hear as well as ever. They are a household necessity in my family."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are sold by druggists at 50 cents for complete treatment and for convenience, safety and prompt results they are undoubtedly the long looked for catarrh cure.

THE MARKETS.

Chicago, Oct. 8.—Trade in the wheat pit opened dull today with December a shade to ¼@½c lower at 69¾@69½c on relatively lower cables. Liverpool and Paris both reported an advance, but the local pit had expected much more and as a result of this and under the general bearish statistics of the past week, prices had a downward tendency. The selling was local, and the moderate outside demand failed to steady prices. December began to sag early and at the end of the first hour had touched 69½c. Local receipts were 202 cars, ½ of contract grade; Minneapolis and Duluth reported 833 cars, making a total for the three points of 1,041 cars, against 1,033 for last week and 896 a year ago.

December corn opened quiet ⅛c to ¼c lower at 67⅝c to 67⅞c on cables and sold off to 56½c. Receipts were 321 cars.

Oats had a small and featureless market, December opening a shade to ⅛c lower at 35½c to 35⅝@35¾c in sympathy with other grains, and selling to 35¾c. Receipts were 313 cars.

Provisions were weak and lower on a lower hog market and on continued outside liquidation and an absence of support. January pork opened 17½c to 27½c lower at $15.05@15.15; January lard 7½c down at $9.00 and sold to $8.97½, and January ribs 10c depressed at $7.00.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Oct. 8.—The contrary movements of prices in the opening dealings reflected the uncertainty and hesitation of speculative sentiment. Dealings were not on a large scale, however. There was some special pressure against United States Steel, Sugar and the New York Tractions. Amalgamated Copper opened up ½, but more than lost it. New York, Chicago and St. Louis, Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie and Iowa Central preferred showed good gains.

The resistance shown by special stocks encouraged the bulls to bid up the market and there were quick advances of from 1 to 3 points with Amalgamated Copper, Brooklyn Transit and Atchison in the lead. By 10:30 the demand had slackened and the bears made a drive against Brooklyn Transit and Sugar, the latter losing 2 points. Other stocks also weakened, but held above first prices.

The specialties bore the brunt of the selling and losses were extended all around. The Tractions as a group suffered more than any other stocks, but Sugar and Amalgamated Copper dropped over 2 points each. Railroad stocks eased off, but none of the leaders was more than a fraction below yesterday's close. Lake Erie and Western full 2½, New York, Chicago and St. Louis 3, and St. Louis Southwestern preferred 1½, while American Bicycle preferred rose 3½. Bonds were irregular.

THE MONEY MARKET.

New York, Oct. 8.—Money on call nominally at 3 per cent; prime mercantile paper, 4½@5½ per cent; sterling exchange steady with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.85⅞@4.86 for demand and at $4.83½ for 60 days; posted rates, $4.84½ and $4.86½; commercial bills, $4.83@4.83½; silver certificates unquoted; bar silver, 57½c; Mexican dollars, 45½c.

Useless and Poisonous

Nature's Aid to Nature in Throwing Off the Waste Matter Which Accumulates in the Intestines.

A Well Nourished Body and Brain are Better to Have Than Genius.

There can be no perfect nourishment without perfect digestion and the most important part is that which takes place in the intestines. After this process has been completed and all the elements of nutrition absorbed into the blood, the remaining mass should be cast out of the body as soon as possible; if not, the blood continues to take up substances from this waste, foul matter which are not only useless but positively poisonous.

Constipation allows this condition to exist, and so long as constipation remains there can be no such thing as perfect nourishment and consequently no such thing as perfect general health.

The liver is the great laboratory of the body, while the kidneys are the strainers of the blood. If the liver is given substances which it cannot convert into nourishing elements it becomes enlarged, inflamed or in some manner diseased; if the kidneys are overtaxed for the same reason their tissues in time become broken down and unfitted for their work.

The direct results of all this—caused originally by constipation—are headache, backache, nervousness, irritability, rheumatism, bloating and inflammation of the bowels, piles, and a score of other disorders.

Alma-Bromo Salt is nature's remedy for constipation—a tonic laxative which thoroughly cleanses the bowels, relieves the kidneys and liver and has a gentle, soothing tonic influence upon the whole nervous system.

Alma-Bromo Salt is a purely natural product evaporated from the water of the Alma-Bromo Spring at Alma, Mich., and consequently contains no irritating, poisonous drugs.

RELAYING TRACKS

WABASH PUTS BIG GANG TO WORK TODAY.

CHANGES AT THE PITTSBURG

N. M. LONEY BECOMES FOREMAN OF LATHE FLOOR.

ED LINDEMANN GOES EAST

TAKES POSITION WITH PHILADELPHIA HOUSE.

As stated in The Sentinel last week, track laying is to be pushed with all possible speed by the Wabash. A gang of men commenced at Hanna street this morning to replace the old and light rails with an eighty-pound steel rail, and they will continue relaying both east and west of the city until there is new rail all the way between Andrews and New Haven, the only portion of the track not now having new and heavy rails. By the time this work is completed the Maumee river bridge will be finished and the track layers will then build track east on the Butler connection to meet track layers who will be thus engaged on the Butler end of the line. Mr. Gidley, with a gang of ten men, also commenced building a telegraph line from this city to Butler, along the line of the new road, and this will be ready for operation as soon as the railway is completed. As soon as the new road is ready for service the Wabash will turn the Bel River road over to the Vandalia (or Pennsylvania), the new owners. In fact, arrangements have been made by which that company will assume charge of a portion of the road next Thursday, and in this connection Supt. E. A. Gould has issued the following notice to the public: "That part of the Eel River railroad between Logansport West Side and Chili, Ind., will be turned over to the Vandalia October 10, 1901. After the train service has been completed for the day, on the evening of October 9, all Wabash trains will be discontinued and all trains operated over the line after that date will be operated by the Vandalia."

FIREMAN KILLED.

The first death resulting from the bursting of a water tube in the cab occurred east of Crestline, on the Fort Wayne road, yesterday. The fireman had an artery in his neck severed and bled to death before assistance could be obtained. The name of the unfortunate man could not be learned here, as he is employed on the eastern division, and a report of the accident was not made to the officials here.

ED LINDEMANN RESIGNS.

Edward J. Lindemann has resigned the office of report clerk at the Pittsburg freight office and left last night for Philadelphia, Pa., where he has accepted a position in a clerical capacity with a firm engaged in the manufacture of underwear. Ed is a good fellow and a fine clerk and he is missed at the freight office. The vacant place, it is understood, has been filled, though the name of the fortunate one will not be made public for a day or two. There is never any lack of applicants for positions of that kind when it is known they are open.

GET A PATENT.

George Harrod and Hiram Norris have received notice that patents have been granted upon the nut lock described in The Sentinel four or five weeks ago and of which they are the inventors and patentees. This nut lock has been in use on the Union Belt railway in Indianapolis for two years and the management and others connected with that road declare it to be the most practicable and serviceable nut lock they ever saw and the only one to survive the severe tests to which nut locks are subjected on a railway. Mr. Harrod goes on the road in a few days to get his invention before railway men and there is every indication that he will meet with success in the sale of rights. Mr. Norris is a resident of Indianapolis.

GRAND RAPIDS EXCURSION.

The annual fall excursion from the north to Fort Wayne and Richmond given by the Grand Rapids and Indiana road takes place today and the two trains required to handle the crowd will arrive here at 7:30 and 7:45. The railway officials expect a big crowd, but at the time The Sentinel representative called at the office today no estimate could be made of the crowd. The races will be a drawing card to the Grand Rapids and Kalamazoo people and hundreds of them are expected to take advantage of the cheap rates this excursion affords to come to Fort Wayne.

HAND BADLY BRUISED.

Orris Redding, a truckman employed in the Pittsburg freight house, had his left hand badly injured by getting it beneath a heavy piece of freight at 8 o'clock this morning. It is believed that none of the bones were broken, but the flesh is terribly bruised. Dr. Stemen was called to attend the unfortunate man.

CHANGE AT PITTSBURG SHOPS.

This morning N. M. Loney, who has been engaged a year or so in special work in the motive power department of the Pittsburg, assumed the foremanship of the lathe department of the machine shop, vice William Madison, who has been sick for a number of weeks and who will soon retire because of failing health. Mr. Loney has had considerable experience in shop work, having served a term there before being called to the motive power department. W. Y. Cherry, who has served as acting foreman since Mr. Madison was taken sick, will return to the lathe.

SKILLED WORKMEN NEEDED.

There is still an insufficient number of skilled workmen in Fort Wayne and every institution employing mechanics is eagerly hiring all that apply for work and still looking for more. Supt. E. A. Barnes, of the electric works, said this morning that he needed a dozen or more men immediately. He wants those who have had experience in running machinery and are good workmen. He can also give employment to a man accustomed to handling small pipes, a plumber, in fact. Mr. Barnes will install the heating apparatus in the new shops, as well as rearrange the pipe system of the old shops and this work will keep a plumber busy several months. The work of equipping the new shop is going forward rapidly. Four car loads out of seventeen to come from the Siemens-Halske works, in Chicago, have arrived and one of them was unloaded this morning. The new crane is a wonderful help in handling the machinery and in assisting otherwise at the new shops. This morning a big wagon load of lumber, which was wanted on the second story of the building, was driven into the main room, a rope was tied about the big pile and the entire load hoisted to the second story in a moment. It would have taken men over an hour to take the lumber upstairs in the usual way.

A DRUGGIST TALKS

About a Great Medicine---Busy Times at Ranke & Nussbaum's Drug Store, 88 Calhoun Street.

"YES, THE SALE IS WONDERFUL"

And the Result So Unusual That We Guarantee Benefit or Money Refunded—Smith's Green Mountain Renovator Is Certainly All It Is Claimed to Be.

A certain member of this firm volunteered lots of information and was very enthusiastic. "This is just the time of year," he said, "when everybody should take a good blood renovator and bracing tonic. I tell you this is just the kind of weather that pulls one down and we know that Smith's Green Mountain Renovator is the best remedy to renovate and cleanse the blood and give tone to the nerves, muscles and tissue. It comes from the Green Mountains of Vermont and is made from the purest and most powerful of roots and herbs known to medical science and which are native to that region." Continuing, he said: "We are sole agent and absolutely guarantee this medicine or money refunded and the remarkable sale we are having only goes to prove its great merit."

HOW TO GAIN FLESH

Persons have been known to gain a pound a day by taking an ounce of Scott's emulsion. It is strange, but it often happens.

Somehow the ounce produces the pound; it seems to start the digestive machinery going properly, so that the patient is able to digest and absorb his ordinary food, which he could not do before, and that is the way the gain is made.

A certain amount of flesh is necessary for health; if you have not got it you can get it by taking Scott's Emulsion.

You will find it just as useful in summer as in winter, and if you are thriving upon it don't stop because the weather is warm.

If you have not tried it, send for free sample to agreeable taste will surprise you.

upon the reorganization of the army under General Rosecrans, was assigned to the Third division, Twenty-first army corps. After the battle of Stone River and the occupation of Murfreesboro, the battery went into camp near that place.

June 24, 1863, the Eleventh battery moved with the main army upon the enemy's position at Tullahoma, which place was abandoned by the confederates, who fell back across the Tennessee river. The battery halted at Cowan's Station. General Sheridan's division, to which it was assigned, was engaged during the months of July and August in guarding the railroad from Decherd, Tenn., to Stevenson, Ala., and sections of the Eleventh battery were stationed at important points along the railroad.

August 16 a general forward movement was made and General Sheridan's division crossed the Tennessee river at Bridgeport upon a bridge of its own construction. Moving by way of Trenton, the division joined its corps near Winston's Gap. From thence the battery moved to Stevens' Gap.

The battle of Chickamauga began September 19 and Sheridan's division moved to support the right of Crittenden's corps at Gordon's Mill. Here a terrific engagement took place, with great loss on both sides, but Sheridan's division held its position and at one time gallantly charged the enemy, recapturing a battery. The following day the fight was renewed with great fury, and the enemy having broken a portion of our line, our army retired to Rossville and then to Chattanooga.

WAS SEVERELY ENGAGED.

The Eleventh battery was severely engaged in this battle, losing heavily in killed and wounded. Arriving at Chattanooga the battery took position in the fortifications and was engaged in the siege of that place. It took part in the battle of Mission Ridge November 25 and remained in Chattanooga during the following winter.

March 5, 1864, a number of members of the battery re-enlisted as veterans at Chattanooga. In May the battery moved with General Sherman's army upon the campaign against Atlanta and took part in the principal engagements and movements that crowned that campaign with success. After the capture of Atlanta the Eleventh battery returned to Chattanooga, where it remained until on November 21, 1864, sixty-five of its members were transferred to the Eighteenth Indiana battery and consolidated with it and the Eleventh battery lost its designation, the new organization being known as the Eighteenth battery.

The consolidated battery remained at Chattanooga until orders were received to proceed to Indianapolis for muster out. June 7, 1865, the Eighteenth battery was mustered out of service at Indianapolis.

COUNCIL TO HEAR REPORT

OF COMMITTEE ON INTERURBAN FRANCHISE.

Widespread interest is manifested in the meeting of the city council tonight, when final action will be taken on the application of the Fort Wayne and Southwestern Traction company for a franchise on Harrison street. The matter will come before the body in the shape of a report from the committee on franchises, to whom it was referred after receiving the approval of the board of public works. The probable disposition of it has been for days the all-absorbing topic of discussion in municipal and business circles, because it will indicate, to a great extent, the attitude of the city toward interurban roads, and mark the climax of a fight of several weeks' duration between the several agencies that have been at work for and against the franchise.

The opinion prevails that with Chicago street eliminated from the franchise, the committee will report favorably upon it and the document will be sent back to the board of public works for revision, if it secures the approval of the council. If Chicago street is not eliminated the majority report will be unfavorable and an effort will be made to get the minority report favoring the franchise through the council. Chicago street seems to have been the bone of contention in the committee meetings. The Pennsylvania company wants half of it for an additional track, and if the interurban line is laid on it the whole street will be occupied.

HON. R. S. TAYLOR

Commends the "Stoddard Lectures" for Their Beauty and Accuracy.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Oct. 7, 1901.

Balch Brothers, Boston, Mass.:

Gentlemen—I have recently returned from a trip to Europe, where I had with me one volume of Stoddard's Lectures. A friend who was along had two other volumes, so that I had an excellent opportunity to verify the faithfulness of the descriptions and illustrations in the book. I found the scenes well selected, vividly described and beautifully illustrated. The illustrations in particular cover the choicest subjects in the various countries described and are, from an artistic point of view, as perfect in execution as the resources of a camera and the half-tone print make possible. Upon the whole the volumes constitute, beyond question, the finest and most comprehensive description of the various countries and nations of the world ever given to the public. You will do a favor to every family where you place the work.

Yours very truly,
R. S. TAYLOR.
